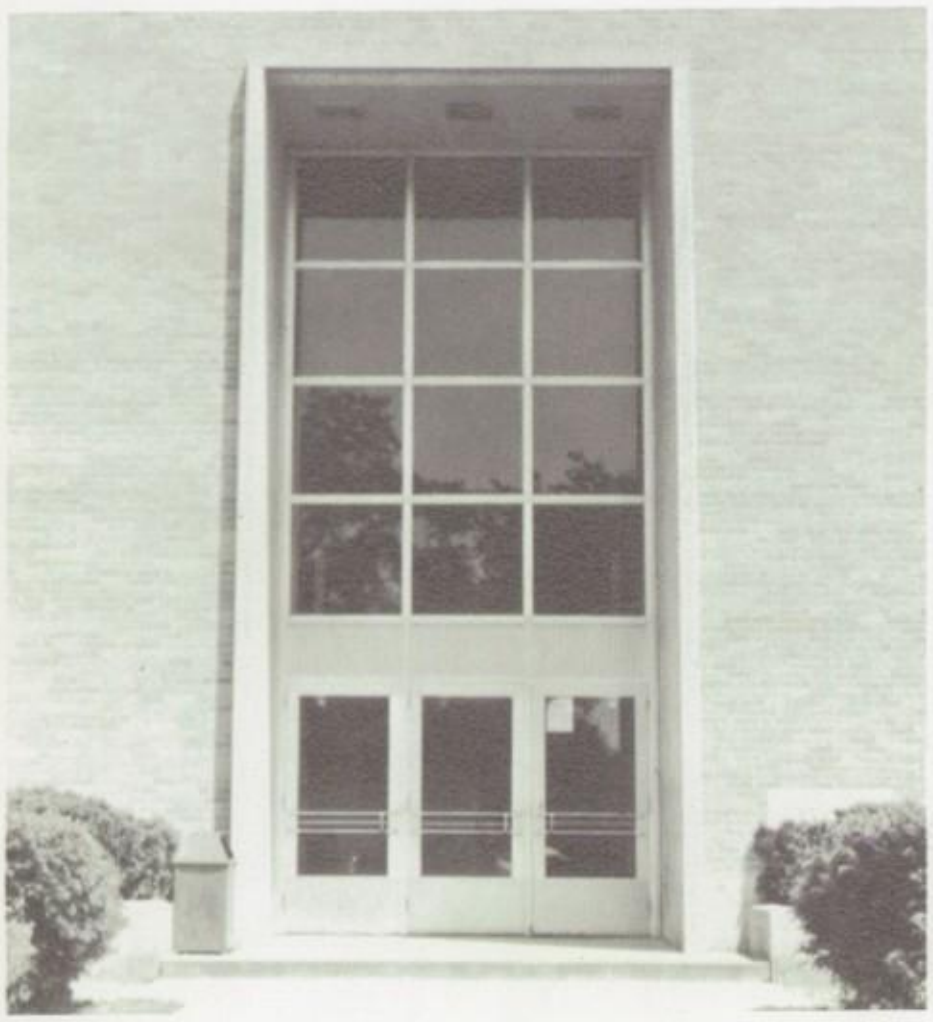
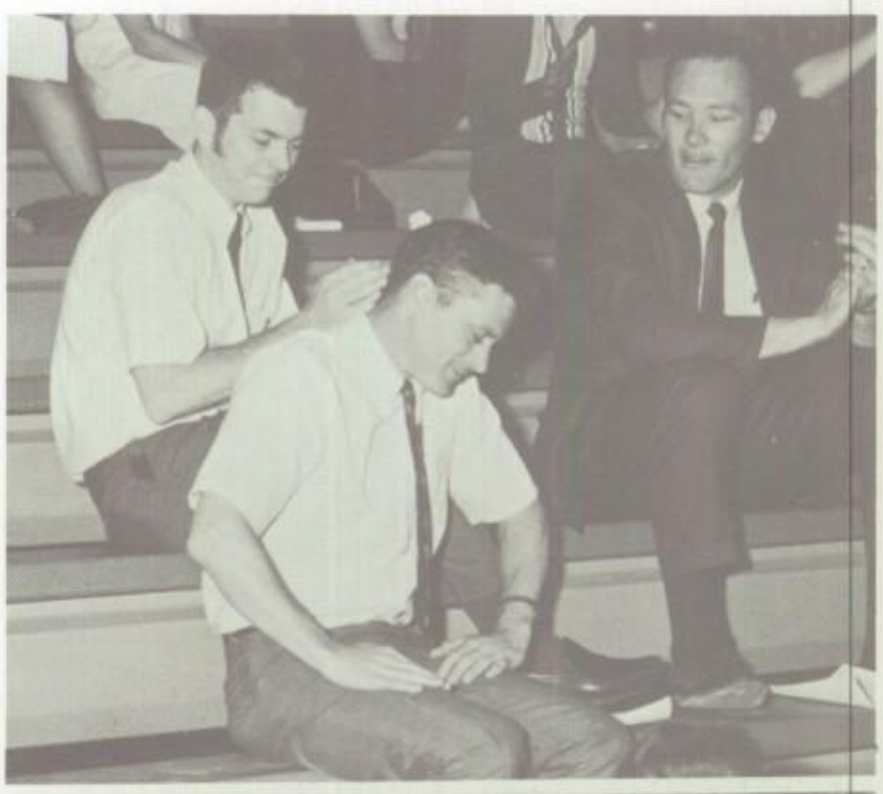
a year of impossible dreams



"If one advances confidently in the directions of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours."

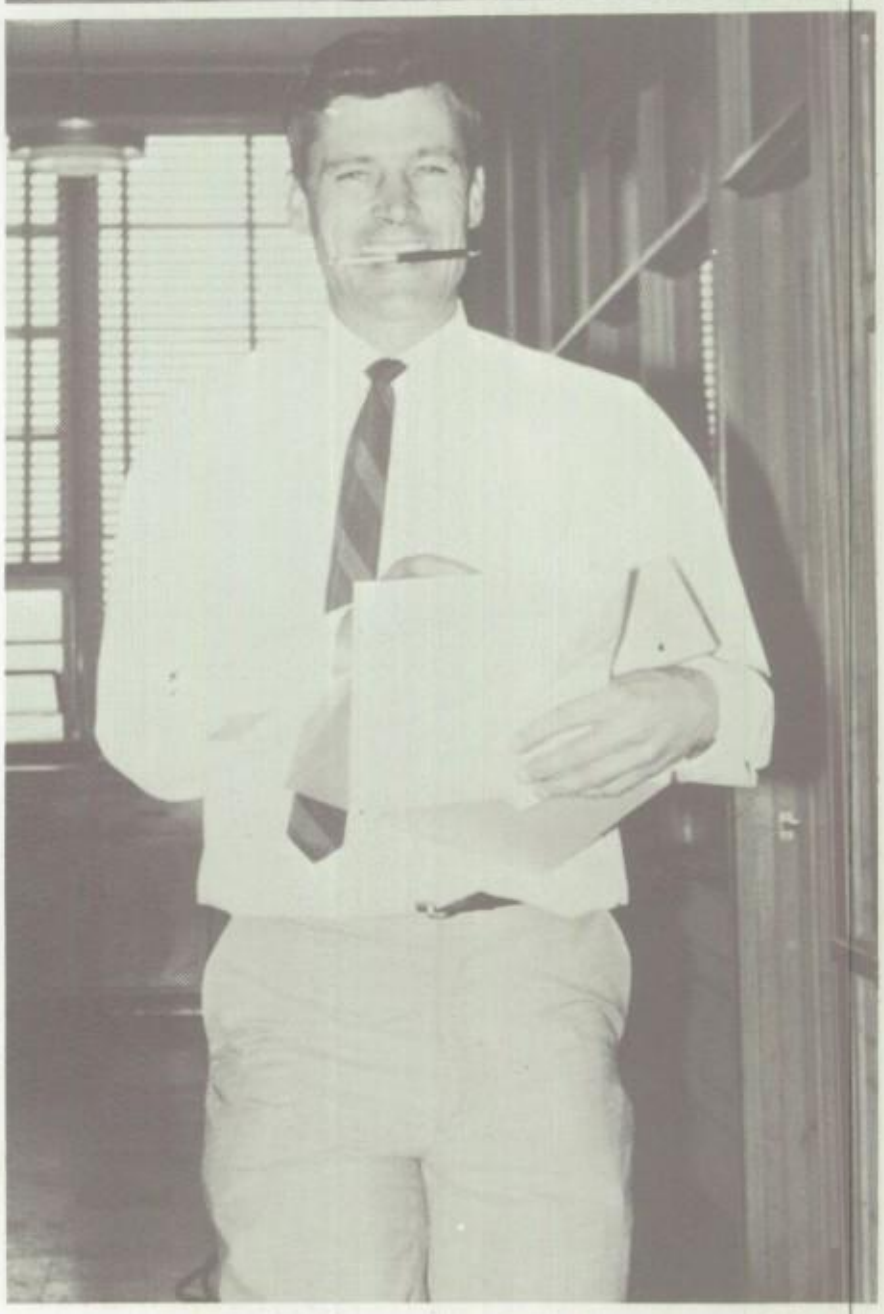
Mr. John Daugherty leads students

Smiles can talk better than dreams, idle threats, or compliments.



"To learn and never be filled, is wisdom;
To teach and never be weary is love."

He has learned, and he has taught. He is wisdom, and he is love. He is one who does the unnoticed deeds that are necessary for the life of our school. He is often one unrecognized, unthanked. Yet his efficiency, his enthusiasm, and his humor are felt daily by all who encounter him. With the ease of one devoted to his work, he has led students toward the realization of their impossible dreams. No matter what the dream---running a good race, excelling on the football field, catching an eraser on the nose, or even spelling "pterodactyl" correctly---he will be there. And he will be here---in the hearts of all who know him. To you, Mr. John Daugherty, who makes the unreachable stars a little closer, we dedicate the 1969 Jester.

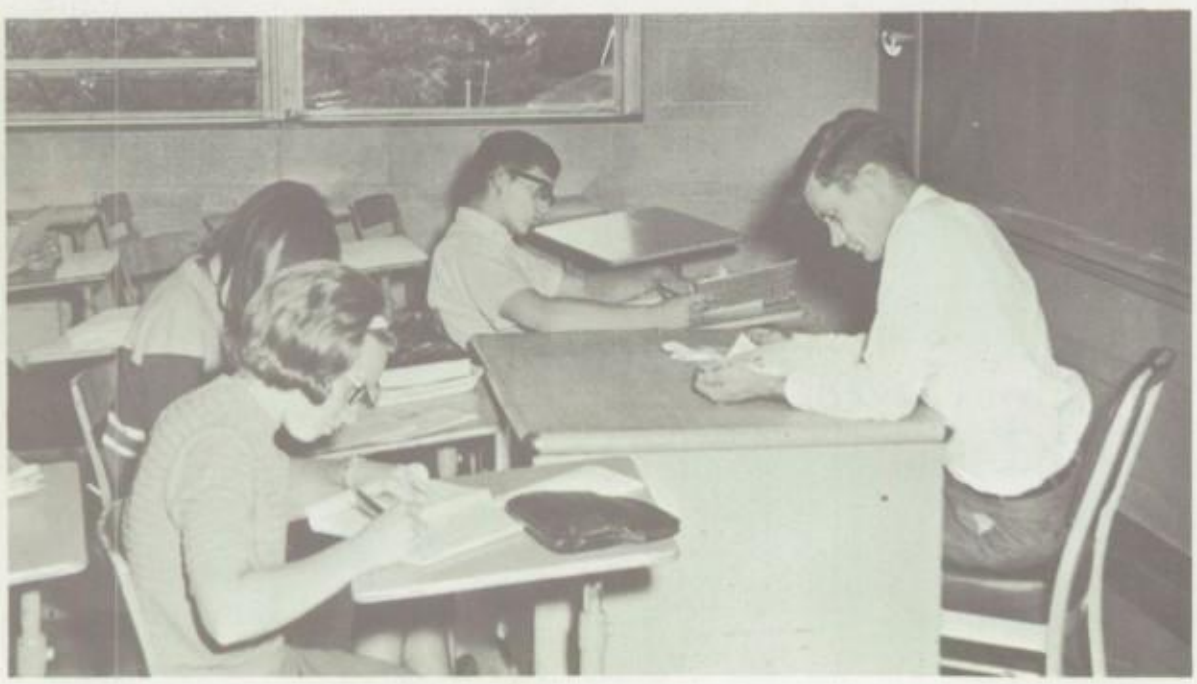


"His life is gentle, and the elements
So mix'd in him that Nature might stand up,
And say to all the world, 'This is a man!'"

toward their impossible dreams

"Our chief want in life is somebody who shall make us do what we can."

"None can teach admirably if not loving his task."



Philosopher, doctor, or genius he is not; merely a happy "team-supporting" man.

To dream the impossible dream, to fight the unbeatable foe,
To bear with unbearable sorrow, to run where the brave dare not go.
To right the unrightable wrong, to love pure and chaste from afar,
To try when your arms are too weary, to reach the unreachable star!

This is my quest, to follow that star,
No matter how hopeless, no matter how far;

To fight for the right without question or pause,
To be willing to march into hell for a heavenly cause!

And I know, if I'll only be true to this glorious quest,
That my heart will lie peaceful and calm when I'm laid to my rest,

And the world will be better for this;
That one man scorned and covered with scars,
Still strove with his last ounce of courage,
To reach the unreachable star.

A majestic bonfire rally was presented by the Pep Club to enlighten the spirits of the Blue Bullet fans.

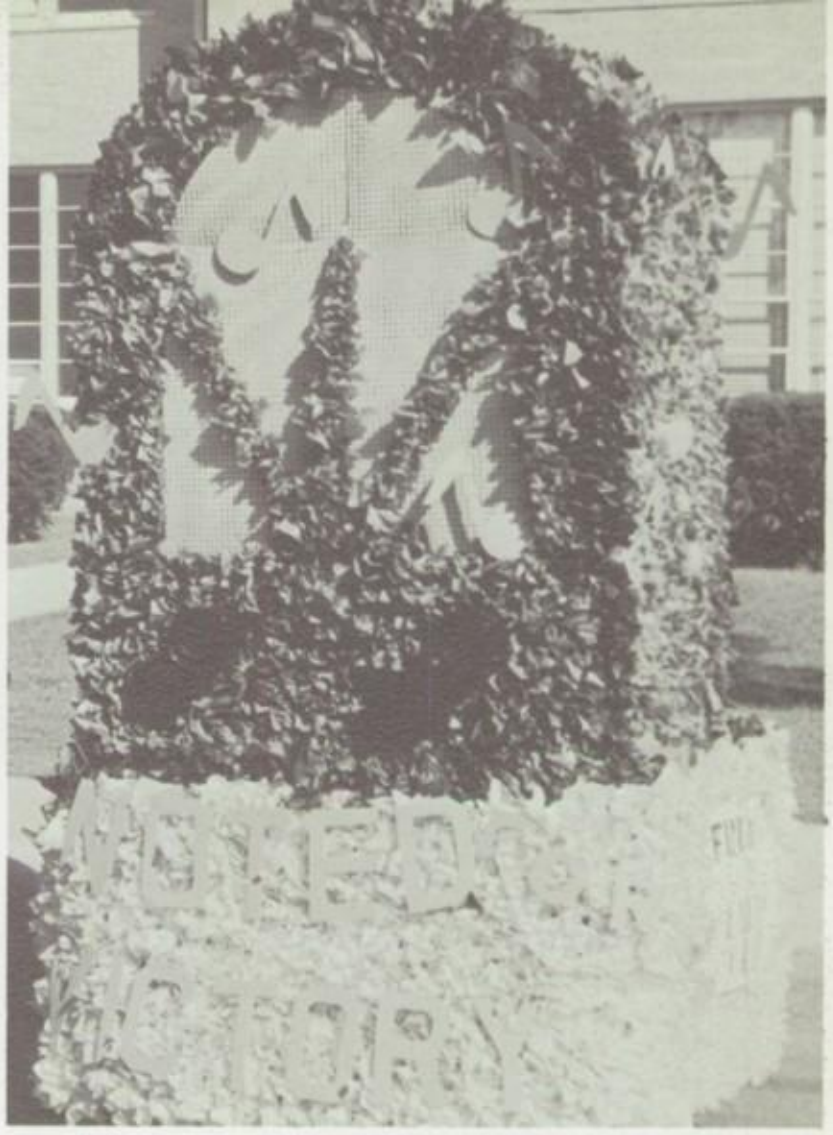
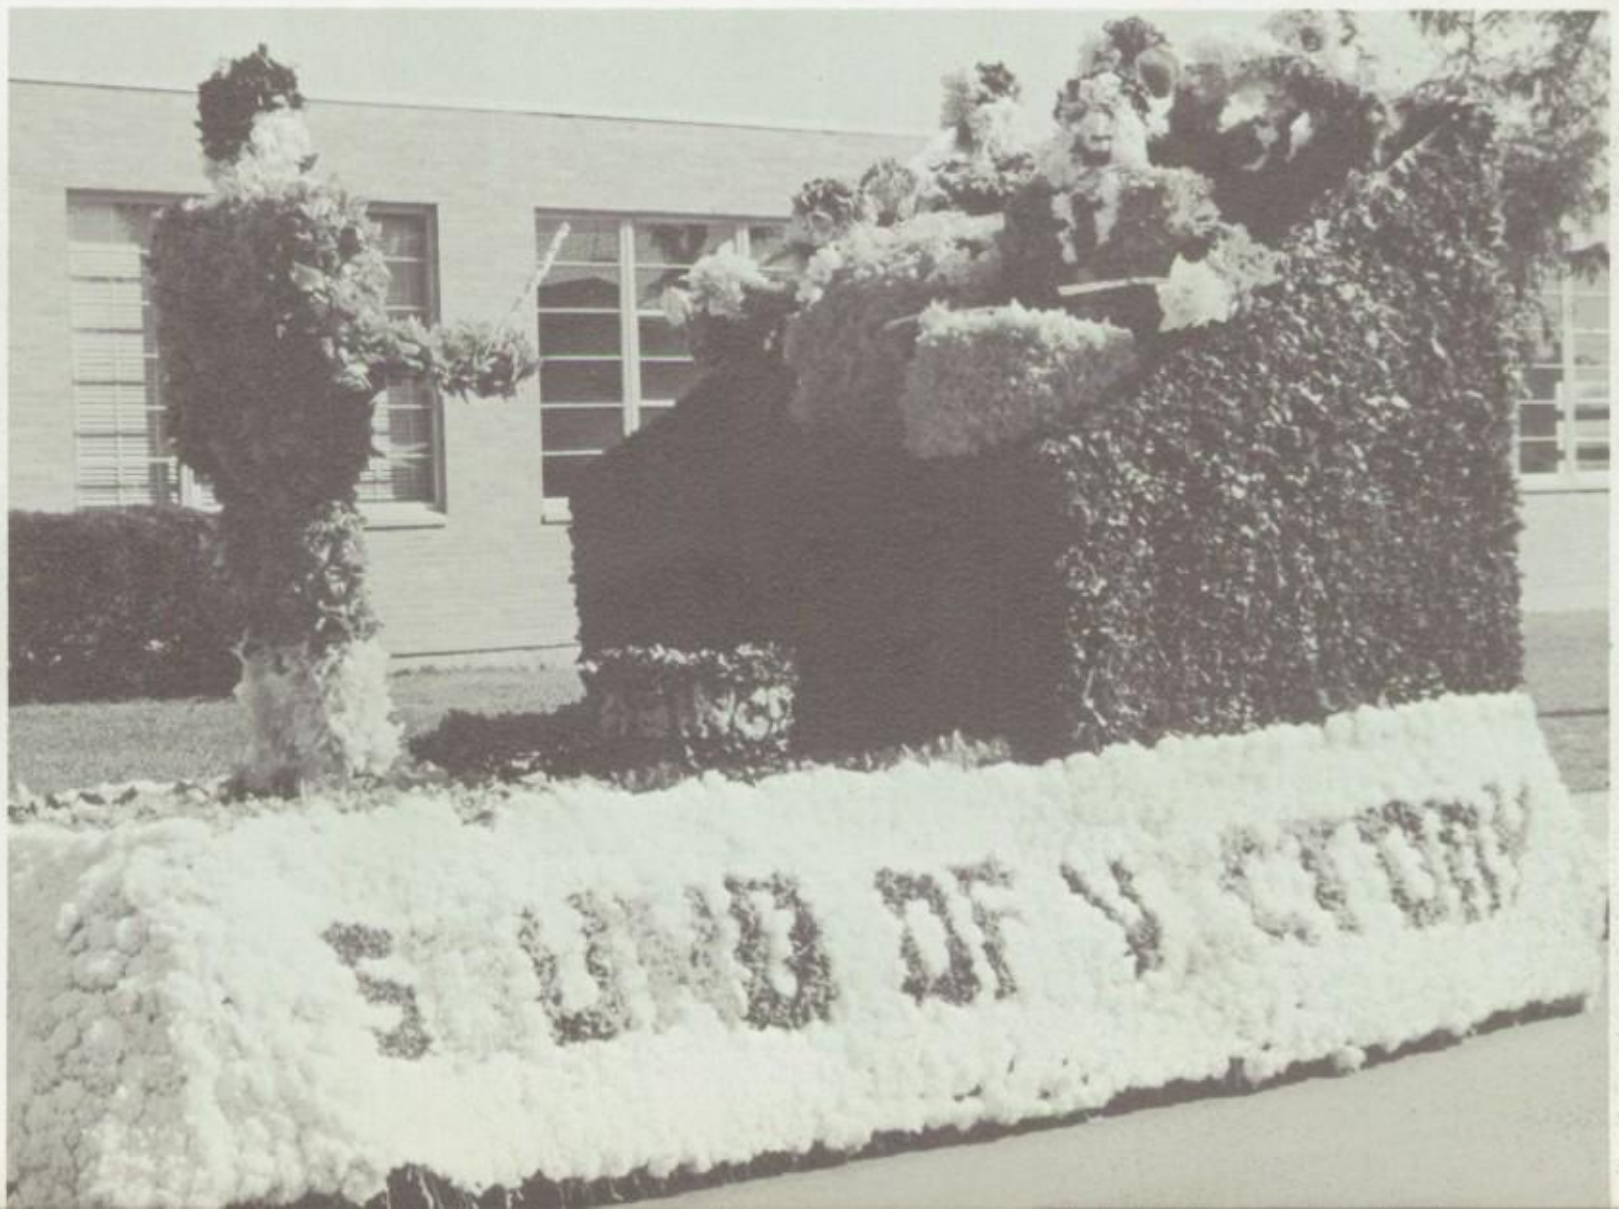
Even before the daily routine of the school life was established, plans for the 1968 Homecoming began to develop. The Senior Class organized committees which undertook many often unnoticed but essential tasks, initially selecting the "Sound of Music" as the Homecoming theme. Soon the other classes participated in the important preparation by selecting the attendants they wished to have represent them. All classes and organizations worked for weeks planning and constructing their floats. Many long and tiring hours were contributed to this undertaking. This year tradition was changed because pranksters held their own "victory bonfire" on Wednesday evening, but, with the donations of citizens and merchants, a huge bonfire blazed Thursday night. Following this, a pep rally and auction were held in the Junior High gym. School was dismissed early Friday afternoon to allow students to gaze with admiration at their works of art as the parade procession traveled down Main Street.



The French and Latin Clubs combined their efforts to produce this interesting and original looking float.

success of Homecoming 1968

The "69" seniors made it three in a row by taking first place with their float entry, "Sound of Victory".



Don Trotter

The Homecoming Coronation and Dance of 1968 were great examples of students working together to create their own interpretation of the "Sound of Music." Jensen Gym was transformed into a picturesque scene in the Alps. As the royalty entered from a tall majestic mountainside, strains of Rogers and Hammerstein's "Sound of Music" were played by organist Barbara Sandall. After the processional, Don Trotter, Master of Ceremonies for the evening, presented the entire court to students, faculty, parents, and alumni. Laura Gossick then provided the audience with a heart-warming rendition of the theme song. This vocal solo provided the perfect atmosphere for the crowning of Queen Dianne Fergusson and King Gary Clark. The honor of placing the plush, red velvet robes and the high, jeweled crowns was accorded to last year's king and queen, Ed Whitsitt and Betsy Sayrs. As the royalty returned to their everyday roles as students, the moment of splendor lacked for just a fraction of a second, but as the dance began, the special magic was regained, as memories of Homecoming 1968 faded into the minds of everyone.

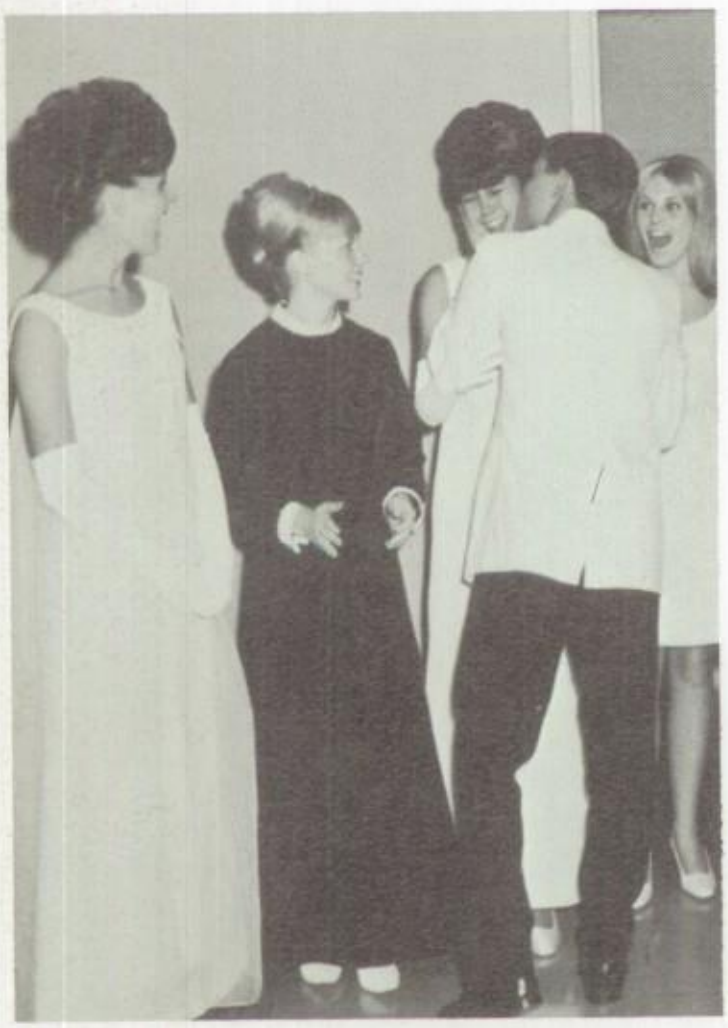
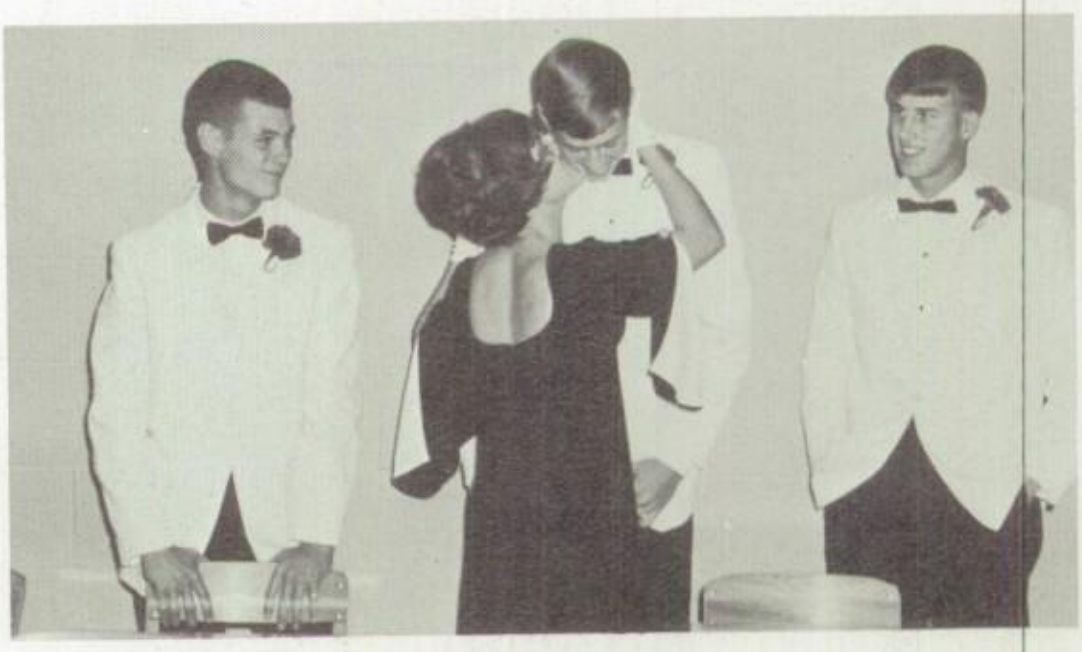
1968 Homecoming Royalty

Royalty records magical moments

The climax of the "Sound of Music" is reached at this memorable moment.



The 1967 Homecoming King, Ed Whitsitt, gives a kiss of congratulations to Dianne Fergusson, Homecoming Queen for 1968.



Retiring Queen Betsy Sayrs reaches high to bestow a congratulatory kiss upon Gary Clark as he is announced 1968 Homecoming King.

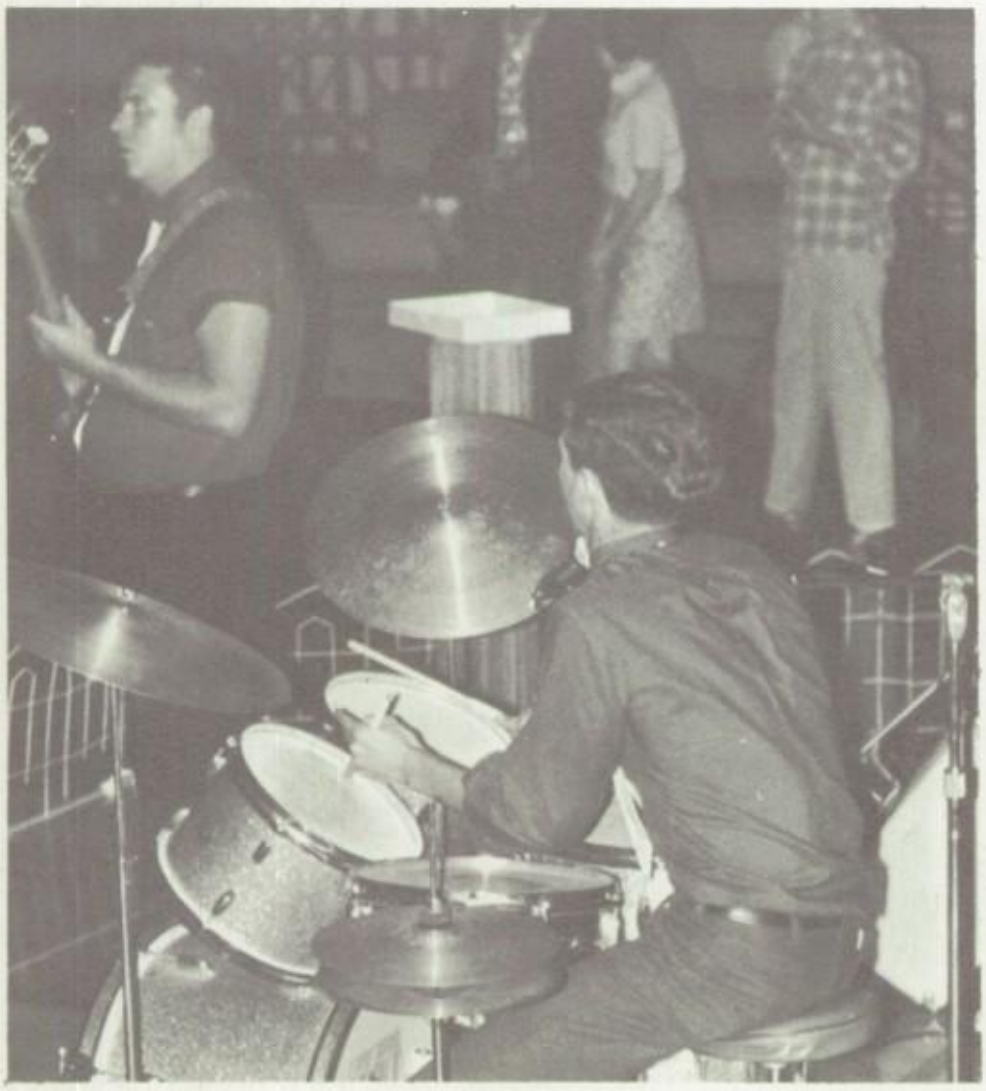
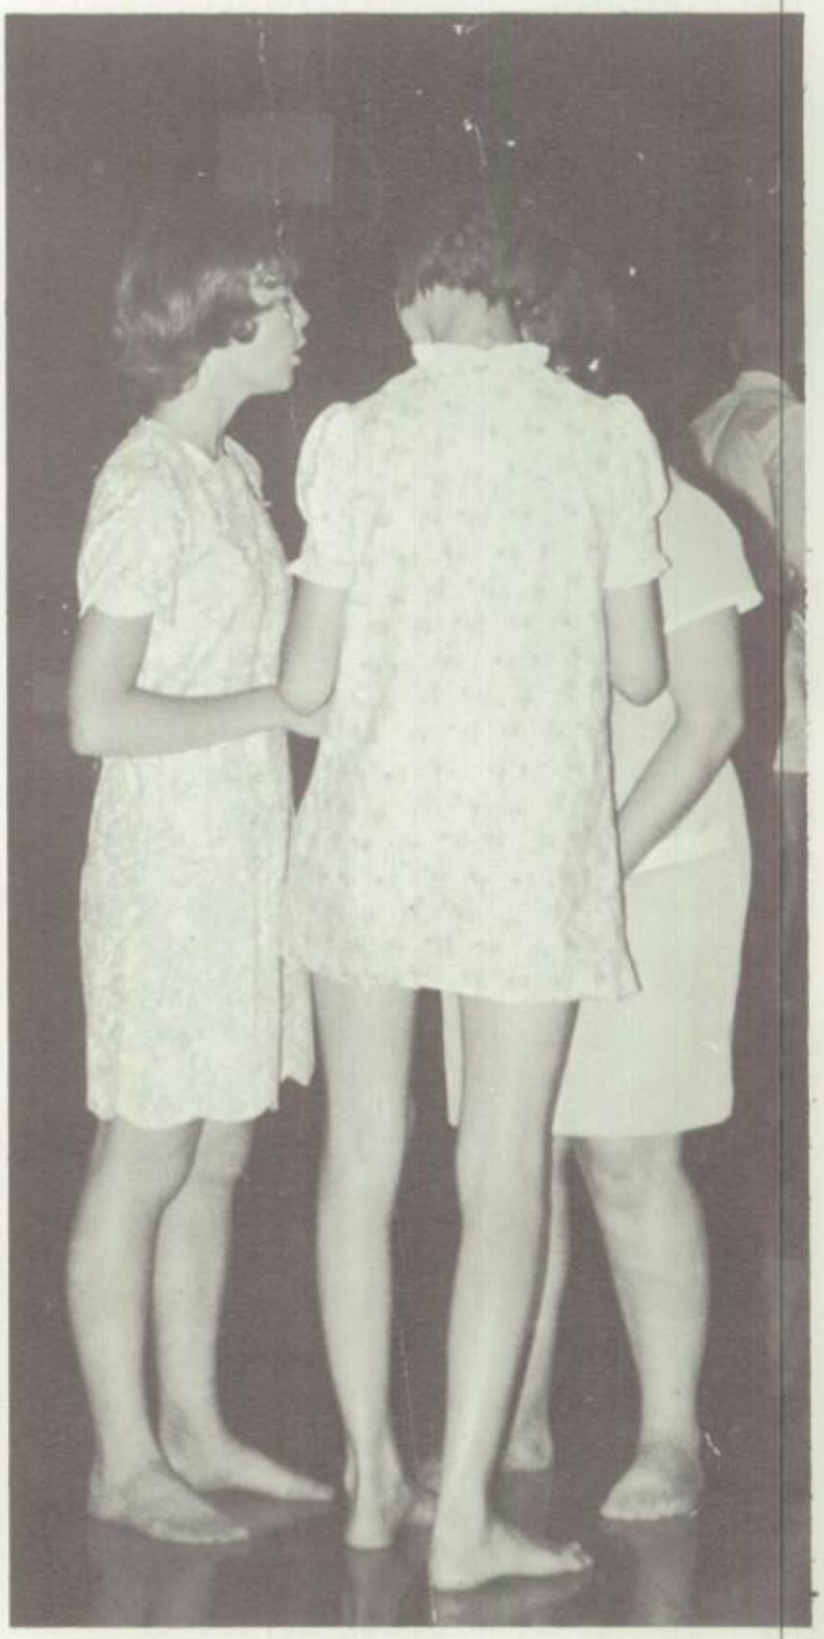
Anita Daugherty tries to restrain Jennifer Dennis from demonstrating the latest dance to Mr. Tarochione.

After-game and special occasion dances provided nighttime entertainment for many students at KHS. Dances were times when students could release excess energy and enjoy the company of fellow classmates.

Dances provide relaxation



A drummer attempts to create an aura of enjoyment at the first dance of the new school year.



"He said that if I'd buy some shoes and learn not to lead, he'd take me to the Prom this year."

Stunt nights amuse upperclassmen

You're suddenly shaplier!

Although the Latin and French stunt nights were held on different dates, they both entertained upperclassmen. Latinites and French patriots were tormented, from pushing peanuts to passing lifesavers on toothpicks. At the Latin Banquet in the spring, Eighth Graders served as slaves to club members. Mr. Tarochione, guest speaker, showed the group slides of his European trip which was accented by the background narrative of Rod McKuen.

Isn't that the funniest thing you ever heard---Nero threatening to burn Rome!

Test your French: "Ham youm mom i?" "Mum moom-im mo mure!" Translation: "Have you got it?" "Don't move ---I'm not sure!"

"Will someone take that garlic out of her hair?" remarks Bruce Johnson, King, about Paula Meyer, Queen.

"Stairway to the Stars" serves

The Junior Class presented the Junior-Senior Prom, "Stairway to the Stars," on May 3 at the Custer Hotel in Galesburg. The Custer Ballroom served as site for both the Banquet and the Dance, and its pale blue walls were decorated with royal blue streamers, silver stars, and angel hair clouds. Crisp linen napkins and tablecloths with pastel-colored paper flowers decorated the tables, and a silver chandelier and fountain with flowers completed the decorating scheme. Professor Minn of Knox College provided the after-dinner speech. It was only as the Prom came to a conclusion that the seniors seemed to realize that their days at KHS were about to end. The Prom was a fitting conclusion to the end of the school year and to the end of high school days for the Class of '69.

"The Blessed Few" provided music for the dance following the banquet.

In their pursuit of both pleasure and education, the Latinites began another year with the merriment of stunt night ---a time for the acceptance of first-year students. The Latin and French Clubs' Homecoming float, an old-fashioned radio promising to "broadcast victory," failed to capture a prize, but all members agreed that the float was great, nevertheless. Later in the season, the resourcefulness of the money-making committee provided the club with the idea of having a coat check at basketball games. This and the selling of flower bulbs furnished needed funds for the two annual spring projects---the Mothers' Tea and the Latin Club Banquet.

The new school year found French Club members embarking on the traditional stunt night. Numerous French students, dressed in the gay attire of well-known Frenchmen, attended the event. French and Latin Clubs combined efforts to produce an entertaining piece of workmanship for the Homecoming float. Various projects were undertaken for the purpose of raising funds. Among the projects was the sale of stationery depicting scenic views of Illinois. Later in the school year, French Club members traveled with the French student teacher to Knox College for a French-style meal. Following the meal, the exchange student from France answered questions from the club members.

One of the money-making projects of the Future Homemakers of America was a pig raffle. After the members had sold tickets at all the home games, the pig was presented to Karen Abel, the holder of the lucky number. The next project for the FHA was sponsoring a dance called "Daddy Date Night" for the girls and their fathers. Later, for the February meeting of the PTA, the girls presented a play, "Happiness is a New Pitcher's Mitt," which dealt with money management. One of the last projects of the year was to celebrate FHA Week by giving cookies to all the teachers.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture. On the Chapter level, the members were given the opportunity to develop and manage their own supervised farming project programs. Together the members of the chapter farmed several acres of ground owned by the school. During the past year, the members of the FFA Chapter have been active in many activities such as the Illinois State FFA Convention and the International Livestock Exposition. The Chapter members were exceptionally busy on the Section level this past year, participating in the Public Speaking Contest, Parliamentary Procedure Contest, and the Foundation Awards Contest.

The Chapter was very successful on the Sectional level in the Foundation Award Contest, coming home with winners in three different fields. John Litchfield, the standout in the local chapter this past year, won both Sheep Production and Star Farmer. Gary Clark, the Section IV President, was the winner in the Crop Farming category. Both boys advanced to the 100-school district contest at Kewanee. The Knoxville Chapter supported two State Farmers this past year. Mr. Litchfield, Advisor, enabled many boys to accomplish many goals through his friendly supervision and calm advice. He has helped much to develop an attitude of responsibility in agriculture as well as in life.

In order to belong to Industrial Arts Club, a boy must have at some time participated in a shop course. The club aimed at providing extensive information about the use of tools. The boys raised money for the purchase of new equipment, and furnished low cost repairs to radios and various small appliances. Business Club practices accounting

The purpose behind Business Club projects this year was to make money for the club's annual field trip. By selling supplies at the students' bookstore and also candy in the fall, the students were able to meet all of their expenses. Educational goals of the club were to break par scores--in typing, dictation, and accounting.

K. Club was prosperous this year not only in sports, but also in business accomplishments. The new blue jackets involved much labor on the part of each individual. Some of the tasks that were performed to earn jackets included working at a car wash, assisting at basketball games, and gathering pop bottles on a pop bottle drive. To aid their financial status even more, the club sponsored a benefit basketball game at which the faculty men challenged the Harlem Astronauts on November 14. The climax of the year was reached when all members journeyed to St. Louis for the annual club trip.

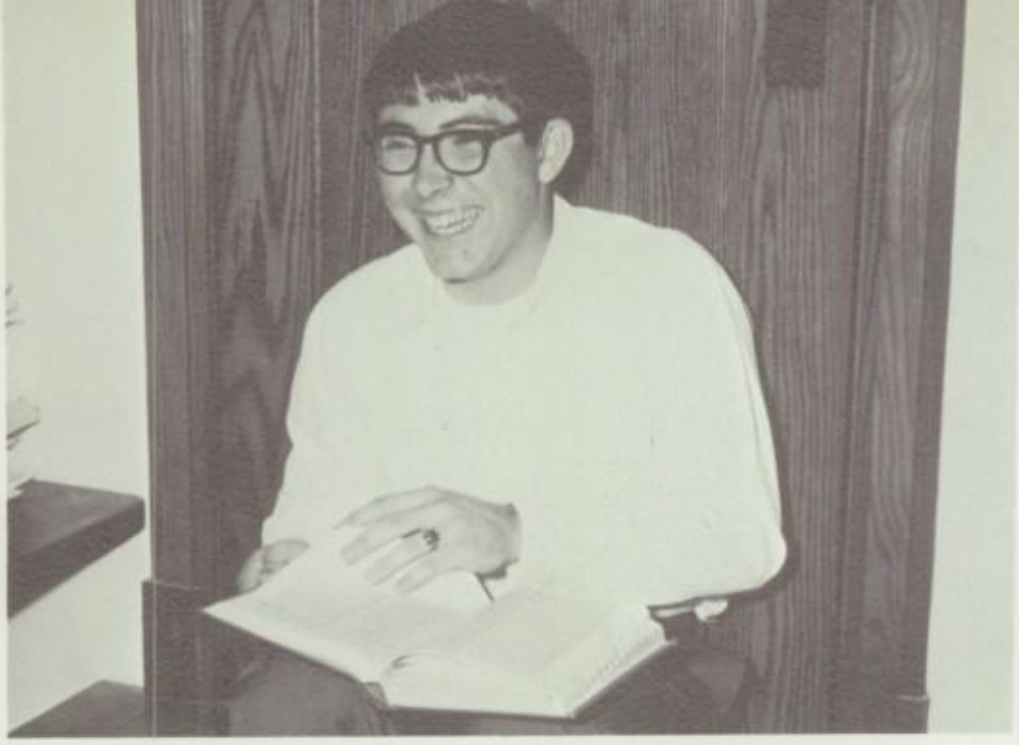
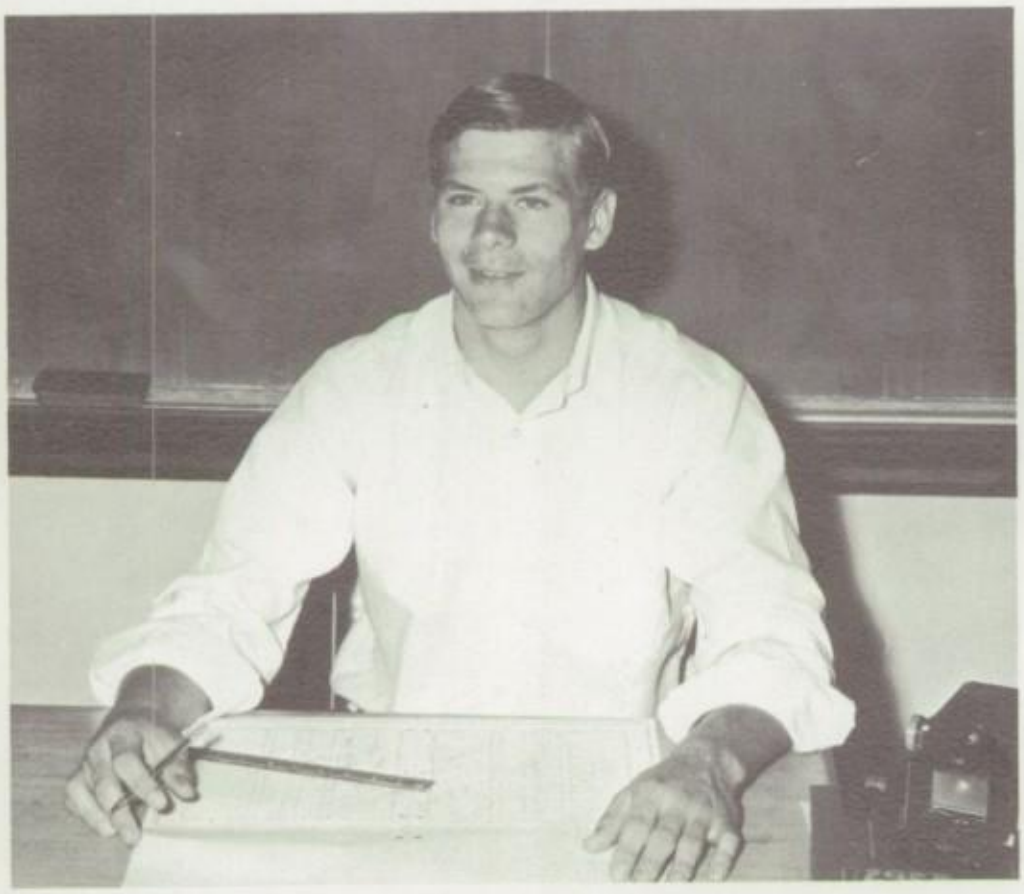
The Jester Staff of "69" has endeavored to make this Jester one of particular ingenuity, creativity and imagination, or in quoting our bulletin board, "This is an actual unretouched photo of the ugly? things you find at KHS." The word "staff" has usually caused one to think of something military or organized. A casual observer would have considered the Jester meetings filled with encounters between all different types of antagonists, rugged individuals, anarchists, or just plain trouble-makers, and far from, shall one say, "orderly". Any dream though seemingly "impossible" has always had its minor trials before fulfillment.

The dream of a clear set of memories of KHS was truely one worth living through.



"Oh, Ruthie, don't laugh so hard when I ask what copy Terry hasn't written," chokes Bruce Ghitalla, Copy Editor.

Able-bodied photographers Floyd Lamberson, John McCormick, and Ken Lockwood anticipate with mischief their next encounter with the "cooperative" members of the faculty.



Sports Editor Ken "Mornin'" Lockwood, although occasionally dazed by his overwhelming number of sports pictures, was always contributing SOMETHING to the Jester.

Library Club Members proved to be valuable aids in the operation of the KHS Library, as they checked in books, filed cards, and shelved books. They made a special display honoring Book Week, and as another special project, the members also corresponded with KHS graduates serving in the Armed Forces. The final project of the year was the annual field trip when the club visited a college campus.

NHS members gain self-satisfaction

The most notable event of the year for National Honor Society was the all-school assembly and evening banquet held March 26. During the morning assembly, senior members spoke on the qualifications of membership and new members were inducted. Mr. Harley Knosher, head basketball coach at Knox College, spoke to the assembly audience. The same evening, junior NHS members, parents, and faculty members were guests of the senior members and advisors at a special banquet. This banquet, the climax of the year, provided all who attended with a tremendous amount of pride and self-satisfaction.

The FTA charter was adopted and the officers inducted at a special meeting. Officers of the Gale Chapter of FTA were guests at the meeting and conducted the induction formalities. Among the fund-raising projects undertaken by FTA members was the sale of doughnuts and orange juice before school. FTA pin sales were a source of funds, also. The Gale Chapter of FTA was host to Knoxville FTA members at a potluck supper held at Galesburg High School. At the close of its first year as an organization, the DeBaugh Chapter of FTA took a field trip designed to further their understanding of the teaching career.

This year the Senior High Student Council was involved in many activities which were beneficial to KHS. Among these activities were the revision of the traditional Homecoming plans, ticket sales for the regional basketball tournament, supervision of concessions, and the operation of a paper machine. Through the efforts of the Student Council, a new study hall system was tried and found to be successful. In all, the Student Council had a very busy and productive year.

The principal project of the Junior High Student Council was sponsoring a Christmas assembly. The program commenced with the announcement of Snow Queen and Snow King. Royalty chosen were Shawna Hotchkiss and Dana Thompson. After the coronation ceremony, refreshments were served and exchange gifts were opened. The Spectroscope provided music for those who wished to dance. All students and teachers were very pleased with the efficiency used by the student representatives in presenting their first large-scale program.

Office workers ease burdens

Abandon hope all ye who enter here.

The burdens of numerous everyday tasks such as answering the telephone, monitoring the halls, running errands, and collecting attendance slips were relieved by the student office workers, leaving more complicated work to the administration. These student workers gave up their study halls to do these tasks, and in doing so, unselfishly contributed to the well-being of the school.

KHS had the privilege and honor of being represented by five students at Girls' and Boys' State. Diana Thompson shared the responsibility of this privilege at Illini Girls' State, while Bob Tapper, Steve Perry, Dave Jones, and Bruce Ghitalla shared the honor at Premier Boys' State. Meeting many fellow Illinoians was only part of the pleasure of the program. The need for good government in local, state, and national areas was well-presented through daily instruction and discussion. One optimistically may hope that the opportunity provided by this introduction to good citizenship can be utilized in our community.

An unusually large number of Eighth Grade students helped to strengthen the high school orchestra this year. The organization maintained a very active schedule. A highlight of the season was a Christmas Concert held in the junior high gym. Other events included a brief concert for grade school students and participation in the Mississippi Valley Orchestra Festival at Rochelle. The climax of the year was the orchestra trip to Chicago, where the group enjoyed Ravi Shankar's sitar music. At the Spring Concert, students ended a successful year with the presentation of such pieces as the Bach Double Violin Concerto in D Minor, Corelli's Concerto Grosso, and Music for the Royal Fireworks.

Marching season began the 1969 school year for KHS band members. Countless hours of drilling enabled students to present well-received half-time shows during the football games. Mr. Daugherty, serving as announcer, introduced such presentations as "The Sound of Music" and the "Smothers Brothers Show." A highlight of the latter show was a campaign speech by Jack Johnson (alias Patrick Leyton Paulsen). Also, during the fall, the Band could be found rehearsing for local parades and Homecoming activities. With the completion of the marching season, diligent work began for the State Music Contest. Hours of practice were spent on solos and ensembles. After individual and group performances at Costa High School, contest headquarters, the musicians were rewarded with the announcement that the KHS Music Department had placed as the runner-up in Sweepstakes. This was the climax of the school year. The last function of the organization was to present the annual Spring Concert which was held May 4 in Jensen Gymnasium. All music awards of the year were announced at this performance by Director Charles Knapp.

If it is true that high quality structures are built upon firm foundations, then the high school band and orchestra should be very strong in a few years. The Junior High Music Department practiced steadily throughout the year and achieved great results. Scales were emphasized so that students would gain beneficial background in their musical training. The students' accomplishments were obvious after the fine contributions the organizations made to the Spring Concert.

Bullets go 8-0

Led by new coaches Robert Kniss and John Paulsgrove and seventeen returning lettermen, the Knoxville Blue Bullets completed their first undefeated, untied season on record. Paced by a high-geared offense that scored a record 203 points and a stingy defense that gave up only 46 points, the Bullets captured the Little Six title and finished fourth in state rankings for small schools. The team started off the season with a 14-6 win over Cuba. Following this win were two shut-out victories over Aledo and ROVA. Homecoming was a big success as the Bullets revenged last year's defeat by Abingdon by a score of 31-7. In the battle for the conference championship, the Bullets dumped the previously undefeated Galva Wildcats 45-14. The following week, for the first time in several years, the team defeated Macomb Western 13-6 in a hard-fought game. The next victim was the Alexis Cardinals who suffered a 27-6 defeat at the hands of the Bullets. Arch-rival Costa was victim number eight as the Bullets trounced them 31-7.

Junior Varsity Coach John Paulsgrove discusses the practice schedule with two of his regulars, Dannie Cramer and Jerry Scalf.

Despite the lack of numbers, the 1968 Junior Varsity football team, under Coach John Paulsgrove, ended the campaign with a respectable 2-2-1 record. The team defeated ROVA and Monmouth, lost to Costa and Alexis, and tied Abingdon. One primary reason for the success of these future varsity players was their rugged defensive play. Led by several standouts, the Bullets were able to hold their opponents until the offense could come up with the scoring effort which usually came in the form of a pass to one of their talented receivers. Although outsized, and always out-numbered, the JV's displayed remarkable team balance to overcome their adversaries.

near-perfect season——23-3

Dan Simmons

Paced by six senior lettermen, two hustling juniors, and a promising sophomore, the Bullets' basketball team continued the winning ways at KHS as they won the Knoxville Invitational, the Little Six Conference, and placed second in the Knox County and Regional Tournaments. Playing tough defense and a blazing fast break, the Bullets posted 23 wins for a new school record. The fine all-around play of Gary Clark earned him the MVP Award and Special Mention in the CHAMPAIGN NEWS GAZETTE, while Steve Perry and Bruce Hedbloom lived up to their roles as big men as they controlled the boards for the Bullets.

Fine passing and shooting highlighted Forry Davis' play and won him the Free Throw Award. The always hustling play of guards Paul Larson and Allen Shepherd were big factors in the Bullets' success. Front line reserves Bryce Hinsch and Danny Simmons also contributed much as did Bob Tapper, who was sidelined part of the year due to illness. Floyd Lamberson, sidelined by a state rule, also meant much to the Bullets' success as did Ken Lockwood, Chuck Peterson, Homer Fleisher, Jim Johnson, Dave Thompson, Tom Pferschy, and sophomores Jeff Putman, who started late in the season for the Bullets, and Wayne Mastin.

Junior Varsity captures First in County Tourney

The KHS Junior Varsity set a new win record as they posted an 18-2 record under the coaching of Jim Murdock. The Bullets won ten and lost two in Little Six action which earned them a tie for first in the conference. They also captured first place in the Knox County Tournament. Leading scorers Wayne Mastin and Jeff Putnam were big factors in the team's success as were quick-thinking guards John Cowman and Donnie Johnson. Bob White, Kirk Sanford, Dave Becker, and Jerry Scalf also contributed much to the team's success.

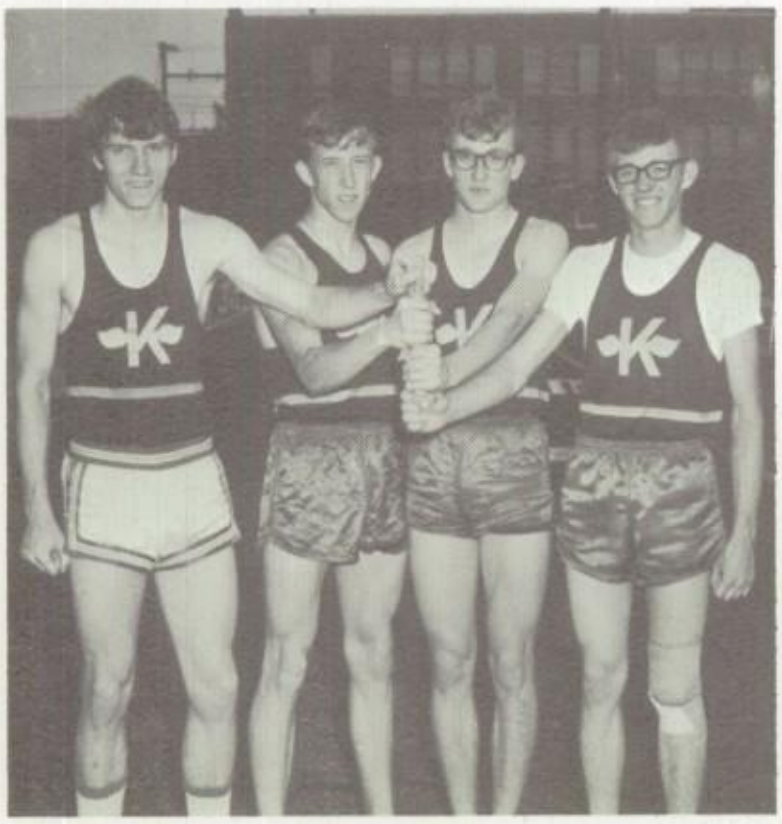
Seventh Grade cagers ran up five wins against three losses under Coach John Paulsgrove. Teamwork and scoring balance were the keys to their success as nine different boys started throughout the season. If the teamwork and balance continues, these boys can look forward to continued success in the future. Coach Jim Pogue, however, was not so fortunate when he returned to basketball hardwood this year and was saddled with a disappointing 6-8 record. The Eighth Graders were in every game, but they lost some real heartbreakers. Still, they managed to show fine spirit which will be a big factor in their basketball future.

Varsity Coach Larry Ragsdale seems to be looking for his assistant Paul Gruzalski and the rewarding future for his KHS tracksters.

The high hurdles shuttle team practice before trying to break their own record in the 320 high hurdle shuttle.

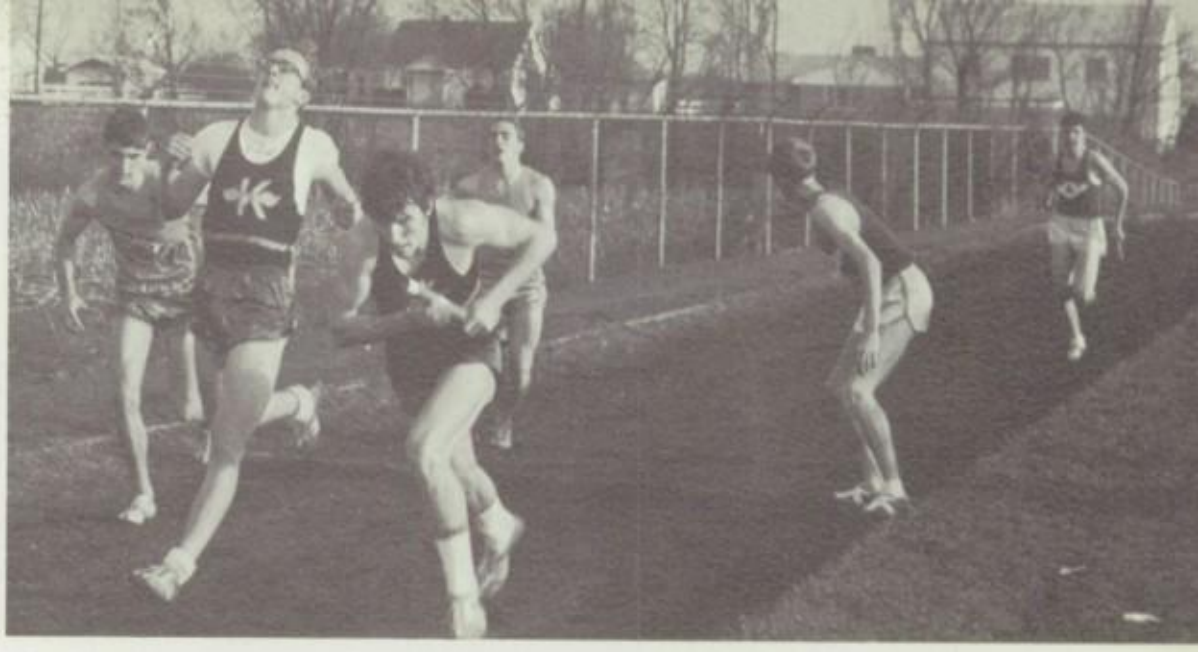
Knoxville cindermen take Monmouth Relays

The 880 Relay Team grips the baton that links each of them to the new record which was broken several times this year.



The Knoxville trackmen completed the third leg in the conquest of a triple crown in the Little Six. Following its predecessors, football and basketball, track also punched in a First Place in the Little Six Meet with a total of 104 points to its closest challenger's 82. Not only did the Knoxville tracksters capture the Little Six, but also the Knox County, and the Monmouth Class B Relays. The cindermen didn't do bad in the duals and triangulars either by going undefeated in them. Knoxville trackmen also placed high against the bigger and stronger schools at Kewanee and achieved a third place at the Princeville Relays. New records were set in eleven events and one was tied. The mile relay and 880 relay records were both broken along with discus, shot put, long jump, 440-yard dash, two-mile run, 120 high hurdles, frosh-soph medley, mile medley, and, of course, the old stand-by Chuck Peterson again repeated last year's exhibition by achieving the outstanding height of 13' 1 7/8" in the pole vault. Bob Tapper also tied the 180 low hurdle record.

Bullets triumph in Knox County



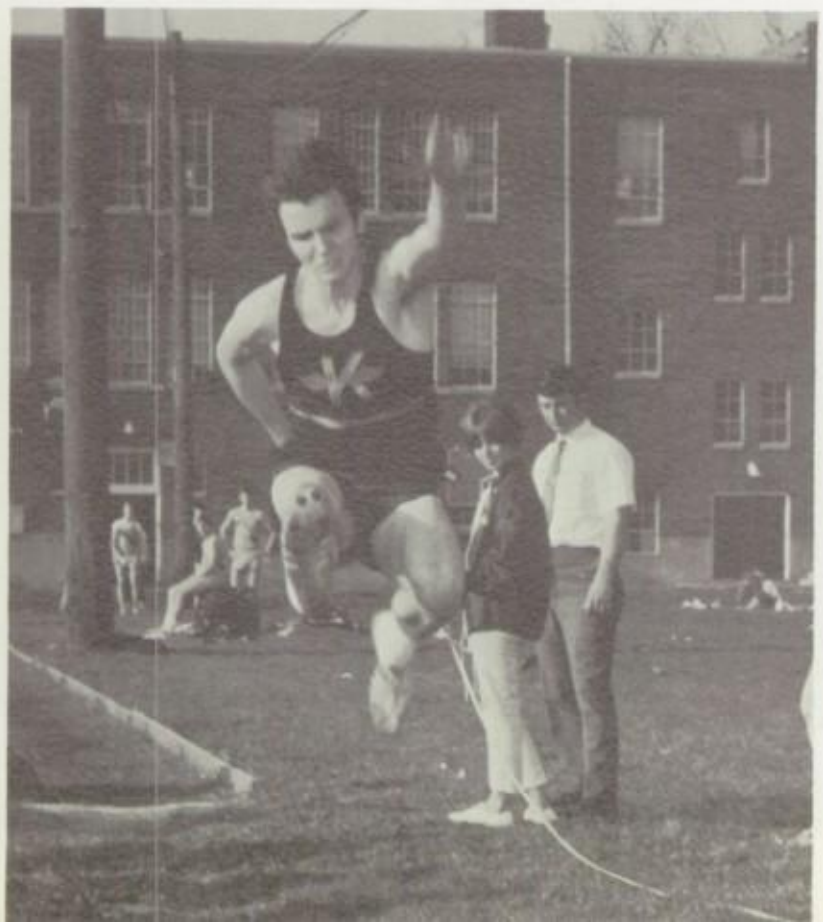
Butch Pickrel takes the baton from Dave Becker for his leg in the 880 relay as the opponents fall farther behind.

Coach Ragsdale needs a ladder to measure the high standards he sets for his tracksters and they strive to meet.

Chuck Peterson eyes the bar which he easily vaulted over many times this year.

The sky is the limit for Steve Perry and his high-flying discus.

Butch Pickrel does his song and dance routine as he broad jumps from the pit.



Paul Larson seems to have lost his shoe in action as he clears the high jump bar.

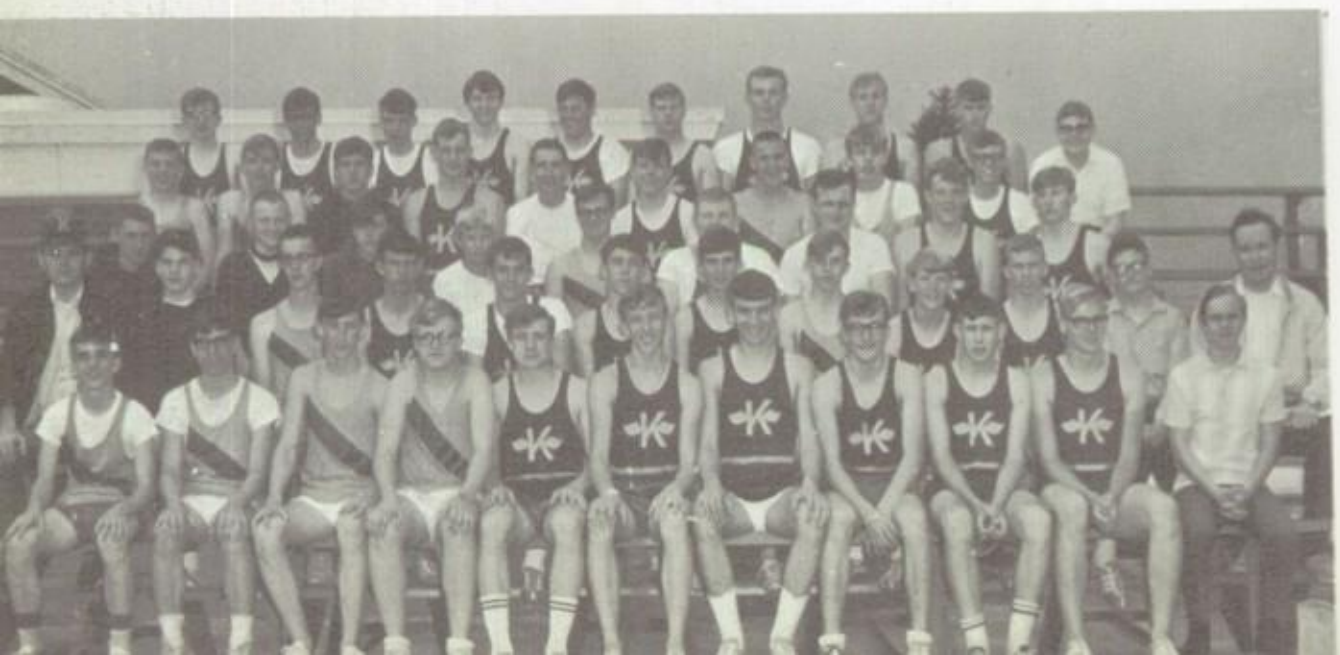
The newly formed Cross Country team discuss their next form of practice with Coach Larry Ragsdale and his manager, Roger Deppe.

Trackmen complete leg in Triple Crown

Captain and MVP this year was Ken Lockwood; Phil Johnson was chosen captain of next year's team. Butch Pickrel won the Tulin Award in the long jump with a leap of 22' 1 1/2, breaking a record that has been standing since 1910. The breaking of this record puts the Tulin Award into the trophy case for good, opening up the possibility of another long jump award for future long jumpers to strive for.

Row 1. Mark Semingson, Mack Glass, Allen Bennett, Jim Eckman, Bob White, Dan Simmons, Forry Davis, Dave Becker, Jeff Brock, Bob White, Manager John Rowland. Row 2: Coach Ragsdale, Bill Mathers, Jim Dowell, Bill Meridith, Leroy Schraceo, Homer Fleisher, Gary Harter, Larry Lynch, Kirk Sanford, John Cowman, Jim Moore, Assistant Coach Gruzalski. Row 3: Robert Deppe, Roger Deppe, Eric Platt, Marc Stoddard, Tom Brock, Gary Royse, Ed Walck, Bob Tapper, Don Conover. Row 4: Don Gardner, Don Johnson, Gary Ellis, Steve Cramer, Dave Schideman, Bill Beardsley, Tom Putnam, Pat Poulson, Phil Johnson. Row 5: John Litchfield, Jerry Scalf, Bruce Johnson, Butch Pickrel, Brad Hobbs, Ken Lockwood, Steve Perry, Chuck Peterson, Paul Larson, Manager Jeff May.



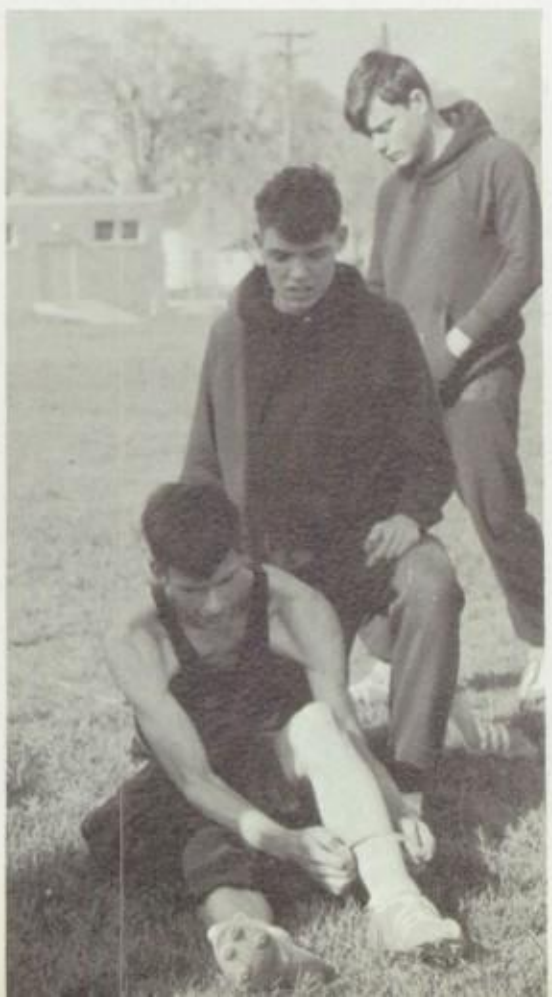
The freshmen and sophomores must not be forgotten either. They completed a two-win-one-loss season with the freshmen adding a fourth meet and finishing fifth in the Little Four Meet. Bill Beardsley and Dave Becker shared the high point honor with 30 3/4 points each. New records were set on three events, the shot put by Bob White, the 120 high hurdles by Dave Becker, and the two-mile run by Robert Deppe. All in all, the future of KHS looks bright as it shines upon the upcoming underclassmen. These boys have the determination and pride it takes to be a KHS athlete and will rightfully hold high the name of the Blue Bullets. Together with the coaching staff of Larry Ragsdale and Paul Gruzalski, the brightness of the future light becomes more brilliant and fine seasons are on the horizon.

Trackmen present the lighter side

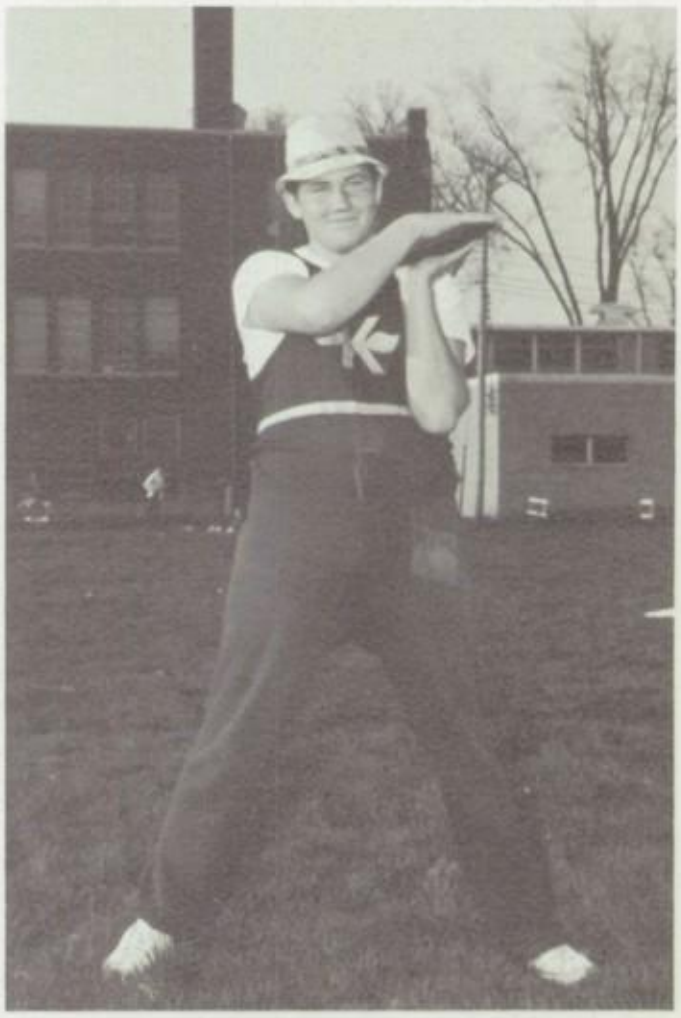
"Gee, Bruce, do you think we scared him that bad?"

"Ah, come on, Danny, we've already run our lap for the night."

"Boy, Bill, you sure have skinny legs and big feet."



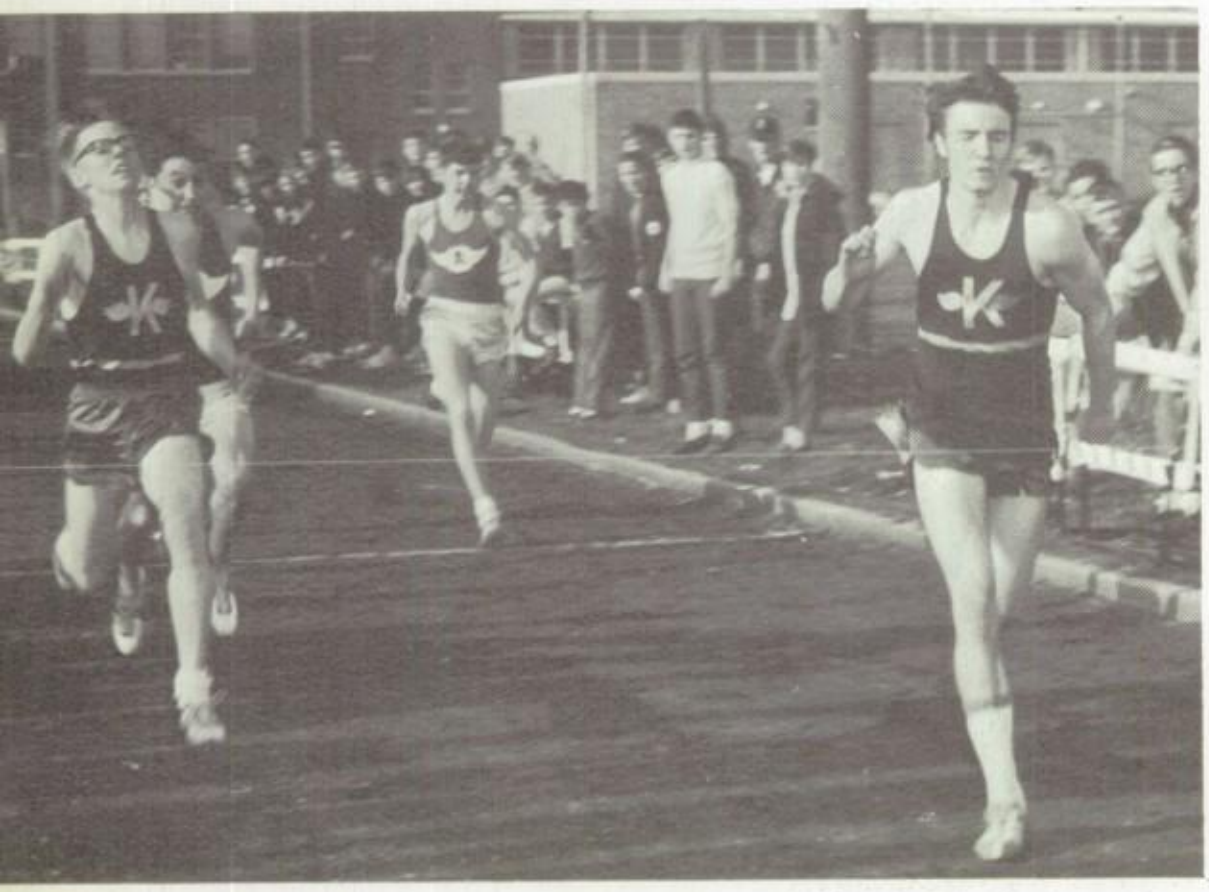
Brad shows us the latest style in discus wear.



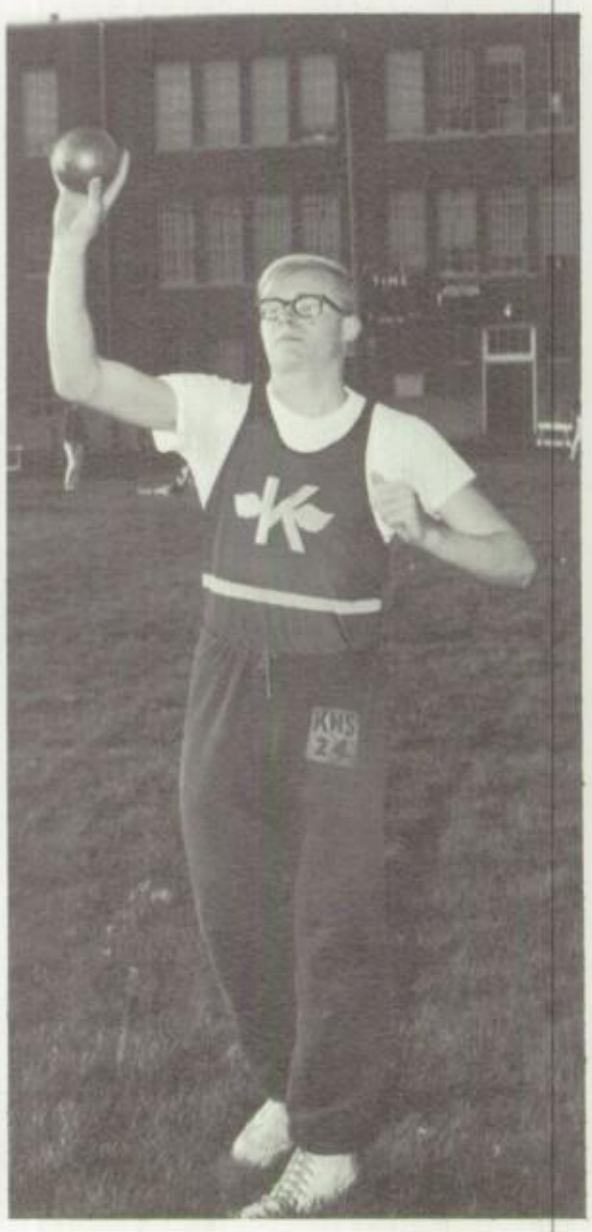
"Water...one more hurdle and all the water I want."

"And now for the Big Four. Wonder where they are..."

Harri and Phil drive on out for the Blue Bullets.



Bob White practices for a frosh-soph meet.



Phil and Dave make connection in the baton exchange of the 880 relay.

Bob and Ken make the exchange for the final leg in the mile relay.

Junior High Track Coach John Rosene and his trusty fleet of managers, Bill Eckman, Mike Milan, and Bruce Litchfield, seem to be waiting for someone to step into their trap.

Baby Bullets are second in Little Four

The Junior High track squad under new coach John Rosene finished this year's season with a record of 1-2 in dual meets, fifth place in the Monmouth Relays, and a strong second in the Little Four Meet. Leading scorer for the Baby Bullets was Junior Carr who also set a record in the shot put with a heave of 45 feet and ran the 880 relay team which set a record with a time of 1:56.3. The other three members of the record-setting 880 relay team were Bleichner, Sharp, and Poynor. Other top point producers were Roger Williams, Gerald Poynor, and George Sharp. These Eighth Graders will next year form the nuclei for a successful freshmen track squad under the leadership of Coach Paul Gruzalski and in future years will help build a strong varsity squad for Coach Ragsdale.

Cheerleaders spark enthusiasm

Introducing new cheers and arousing lively school spirit were memorable experiences for the cheerleaders from Junior High to Varsity. The time spent in practice was worth every minute as the cheerleaders encouraged their fine teams on to many deserved victories. From the crisp autumn air and the sound of "Hold that line," to the brim-filled gymnasium and "We want two," the cheerleaders never failed to stimulate enthusiasm. Through the year the cheerleaders sold balloons to raise money for new outfits and helped put on a magnificient Homecoming pep rally. A cheerleading clinic was attended in Chicago by all squads at which the cheerleaders were taught new cheers and routines and were rated highly in personal evaluation.

KNOXVILLE CHEER SONG

So let's join in
the cheer,
While we're all
gathered here,
Cheer for old
Knoxville High.
We are ready to fight
For the blue and the gold,
Dear old
Knoxville High.
For her honor
and fame
And her glorious name---
We will stand
every loyal man;
So let's cheer rah,
cheer rah
The gang's all here---
All out for
Knoxville High.

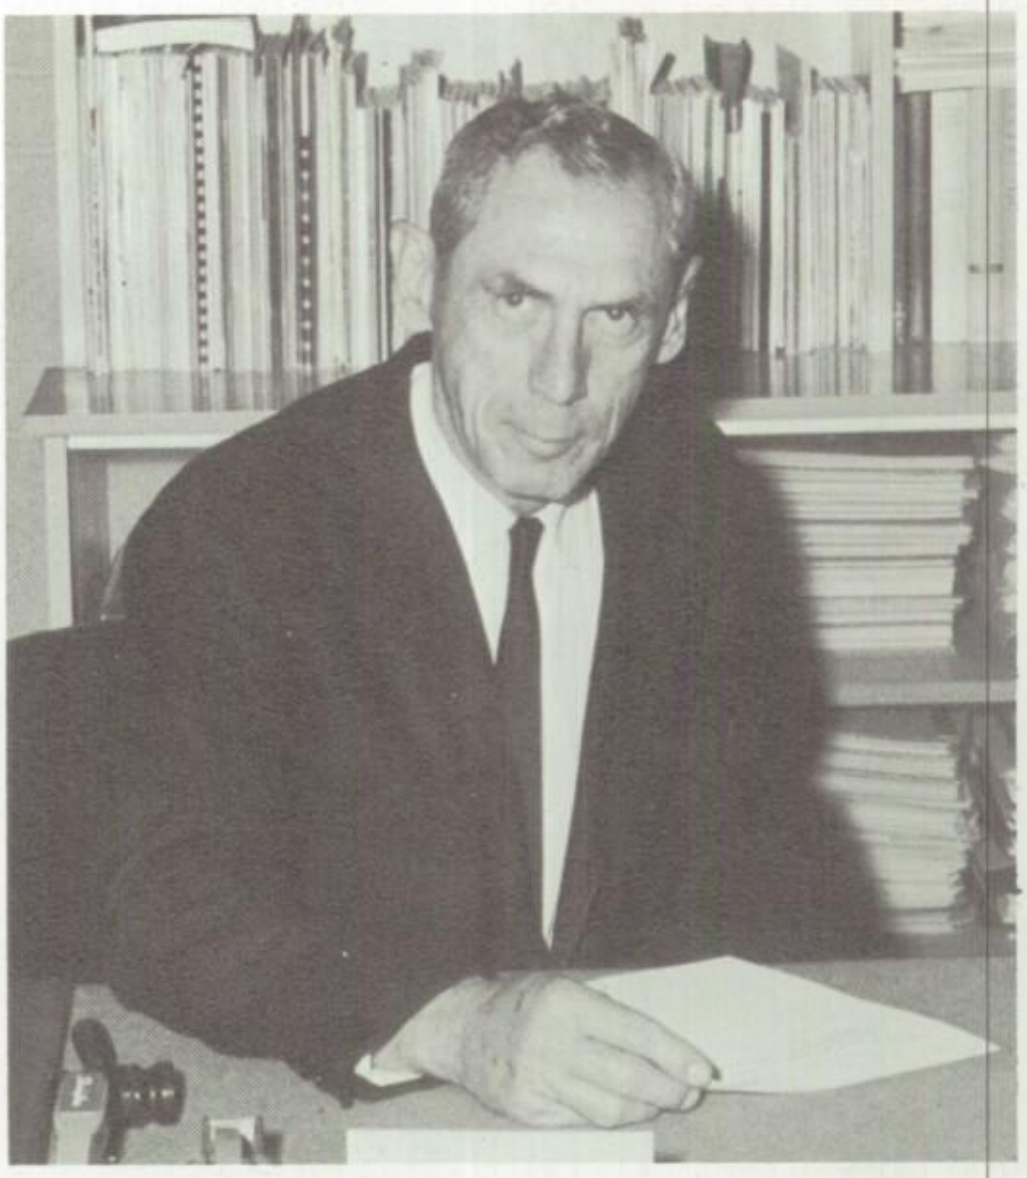
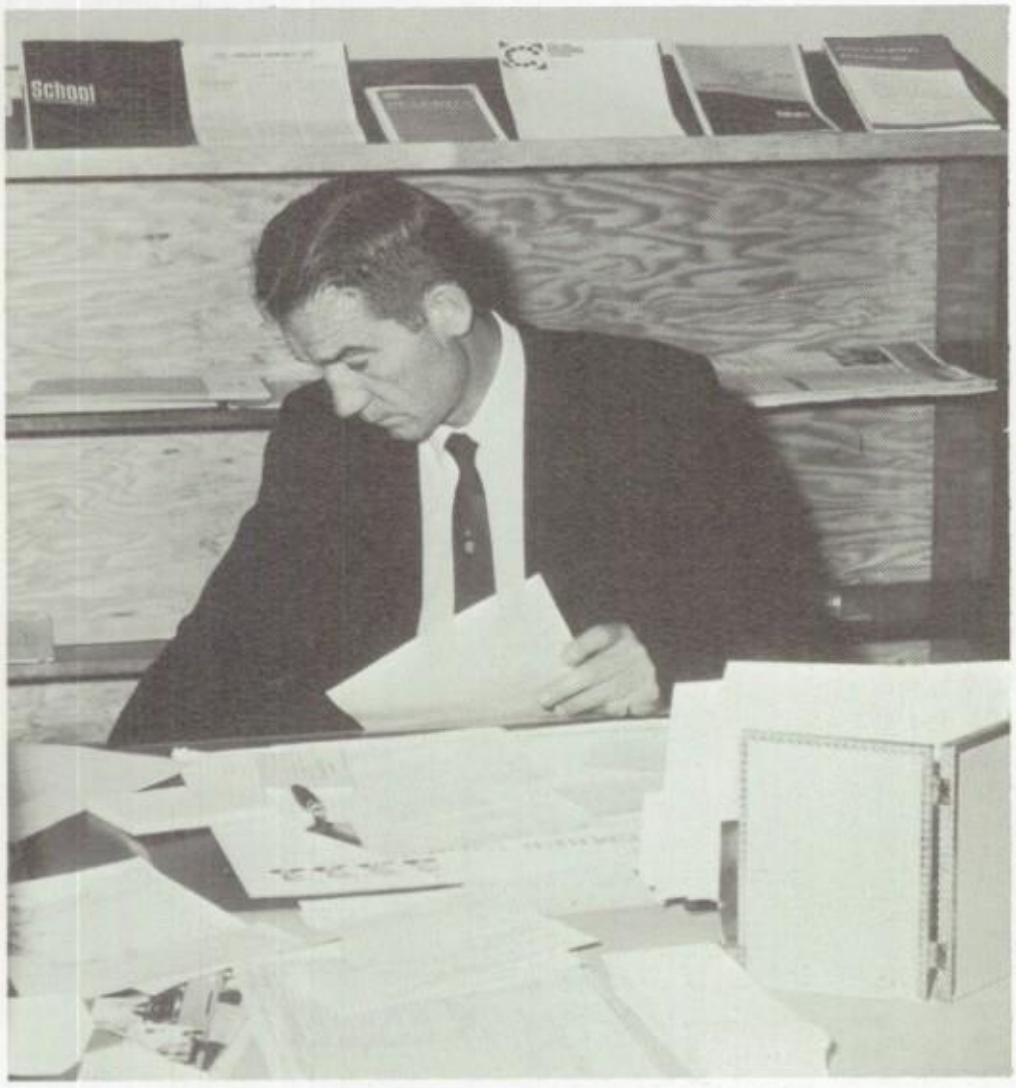
Growing pains plague Administration



Mr. Raymond Bartee, Superintendent of District 202 schools



Mr. John King, Principal of Knoxville Junior-Senior High

As Superintendent of District 202, Mr. Raymond Bartee served our district schools quite willingly and successfully. Mr. Bartee also spent much of his valuable time helping students and teachers solve problems which occurred throughout the year. Under the supervision of Mr. Bartee, the district was assured of the utmost quality of education possible. New in our administrative department was Mr. John King, Principal. By enacting new rules and regulations, visiting classrooms regularly, and representing Knoxville High School, Mr. King was welcomed as a strong link in our administration.

Middle school defeated by voters

Mr. Bartee and Mr. King were ably assisted this year by a competent staff of secretaries. Bookkeeping and office work were only a fraction of the duties the secretaries performed. With the kind help of these ladies, KHS's administrative staff demonstrated efficiency and service.

One of the most pressing matters the School Board faced at their meetings was the bond referendum for a new middle school. Even with the encouragement of the Board, the referendum was repeatedly defeated, However, through the Board of Education, the district operated smoothly and within proper school standards.

English Department caters to Effective communication is part of the essence of effective Twentieth Century living. The English and Language Departments of KHS attempt to cater to this essence by formulating and presenting programs of strength and relevance for our age. To communicate is to explain, to listen, to inform, to prove, to defend--in short, to make oneself an entity in a world of conformity. To help KHS students achieve effective communication is the avowed goal of their English and Language Departments, and it is this goal to which these departments address themselves with untiring endeavor.

Junior High Science

Through new advances in scientific methods, experimentation, and observation, the science instructors of KHS discovered that they could not simply teach from the book, but had to rely upon news mediums also in order to keep up with the "Space Age" science news. With the success of the Apollo astronauts, new breakthroughs in medicine, and heart transplants, science students discovered that there was more to science than the everyday concepts they used unknowingly day to day. General facts and laws were taught in the Junior High program which could be readily applied to the Senior High science courses. Mrs. Block, Mr. Logsdon, and Mr. Staggs provided a firm foundation of general science knowledge for Seventh and Eighth Graders. Earth science, physical science, biology, chemistry, and physics were offered to older students to provide an insight into varied fields to aid individual interests.

American Problems

New teachers, fresh ideas, and different methods of teaching helped to change the outlook of the Social Studies Department. The various studies undertaken were designed to change the students' attitude on history and government, to teach the student to look at the world's problems in different ways, and to understand the basis for the existence of these problems. Thus, a kind of "rational thinking" was developed. Through the social science courses, the students learned how to face the adult life which soon would be upon them, so these courses acted as "vocational training" for future American voters.

In order that students of KHS would be better prepared for higher education and their later lives, a fine staff of teachers was employed to instruct in the wide range of mathematics courses offered in the curriculum. From elementary mathematics background to advanced algebra courses and beyond, KHS was prepared to serve the best interests of the student body.

Each of these was designed to teach students good sportsmanship, also.

District employees serve students

Students at KHS were very fortunate in some aspects. One was that they were never allowed to go hungry. Through the hot lunch program prepared by our fine staff of cooks, students and faculty alike were served nourishing meals daily. Without the faithful services of our bus drivers, however, the cooks would have had very few for which to prepare. Each morning and afternoon the bus drivers safely transported the out-of-town students to school and home again without delay.

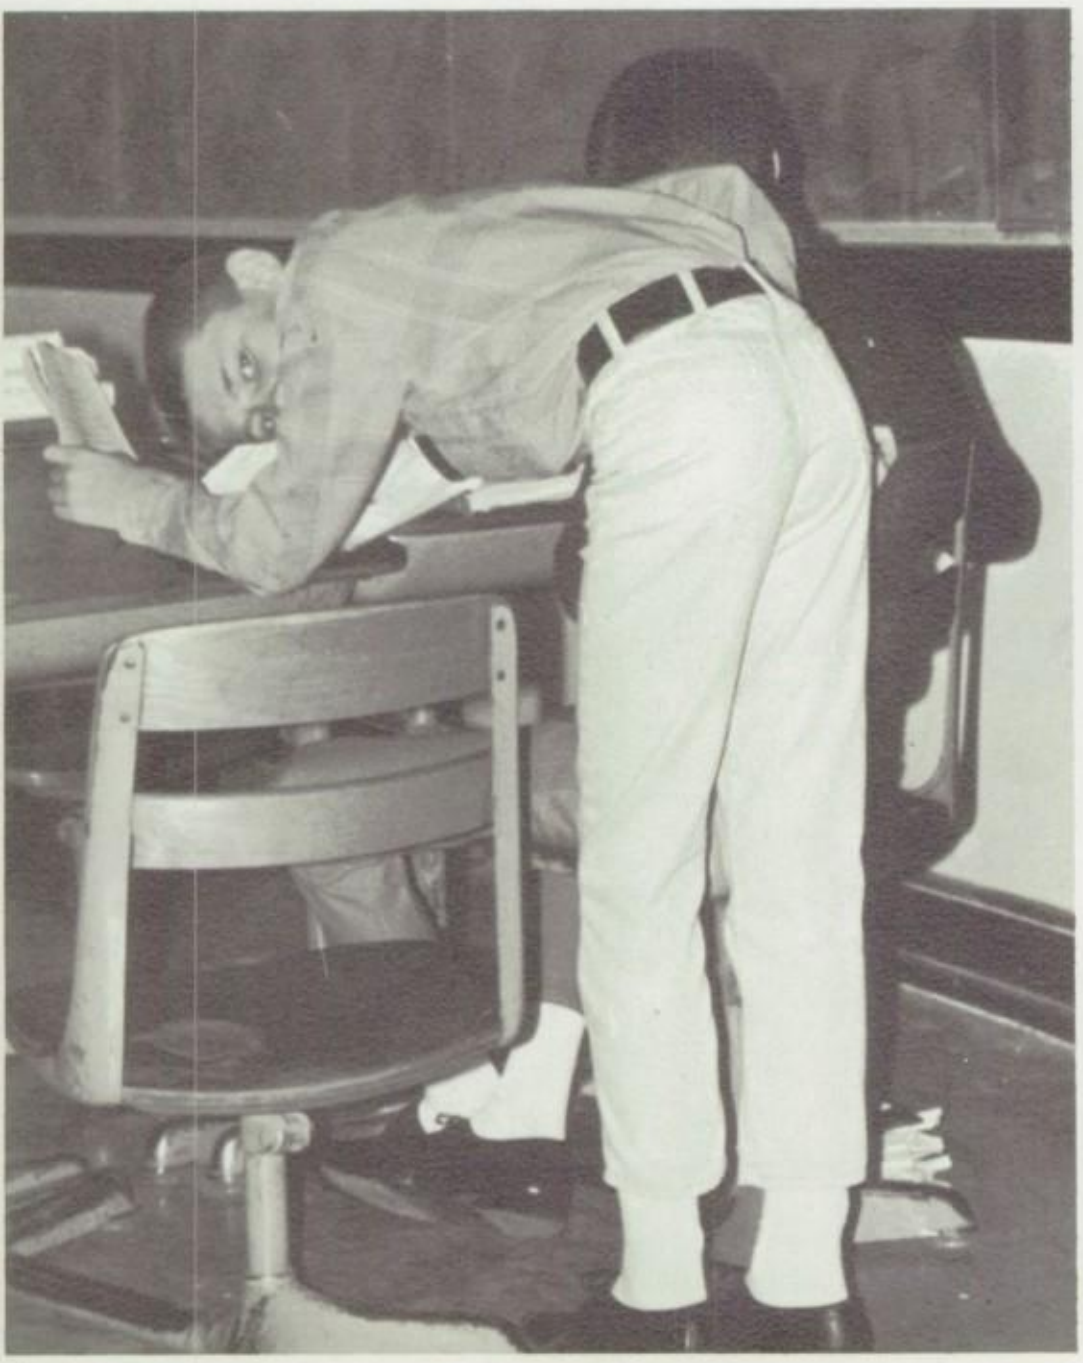
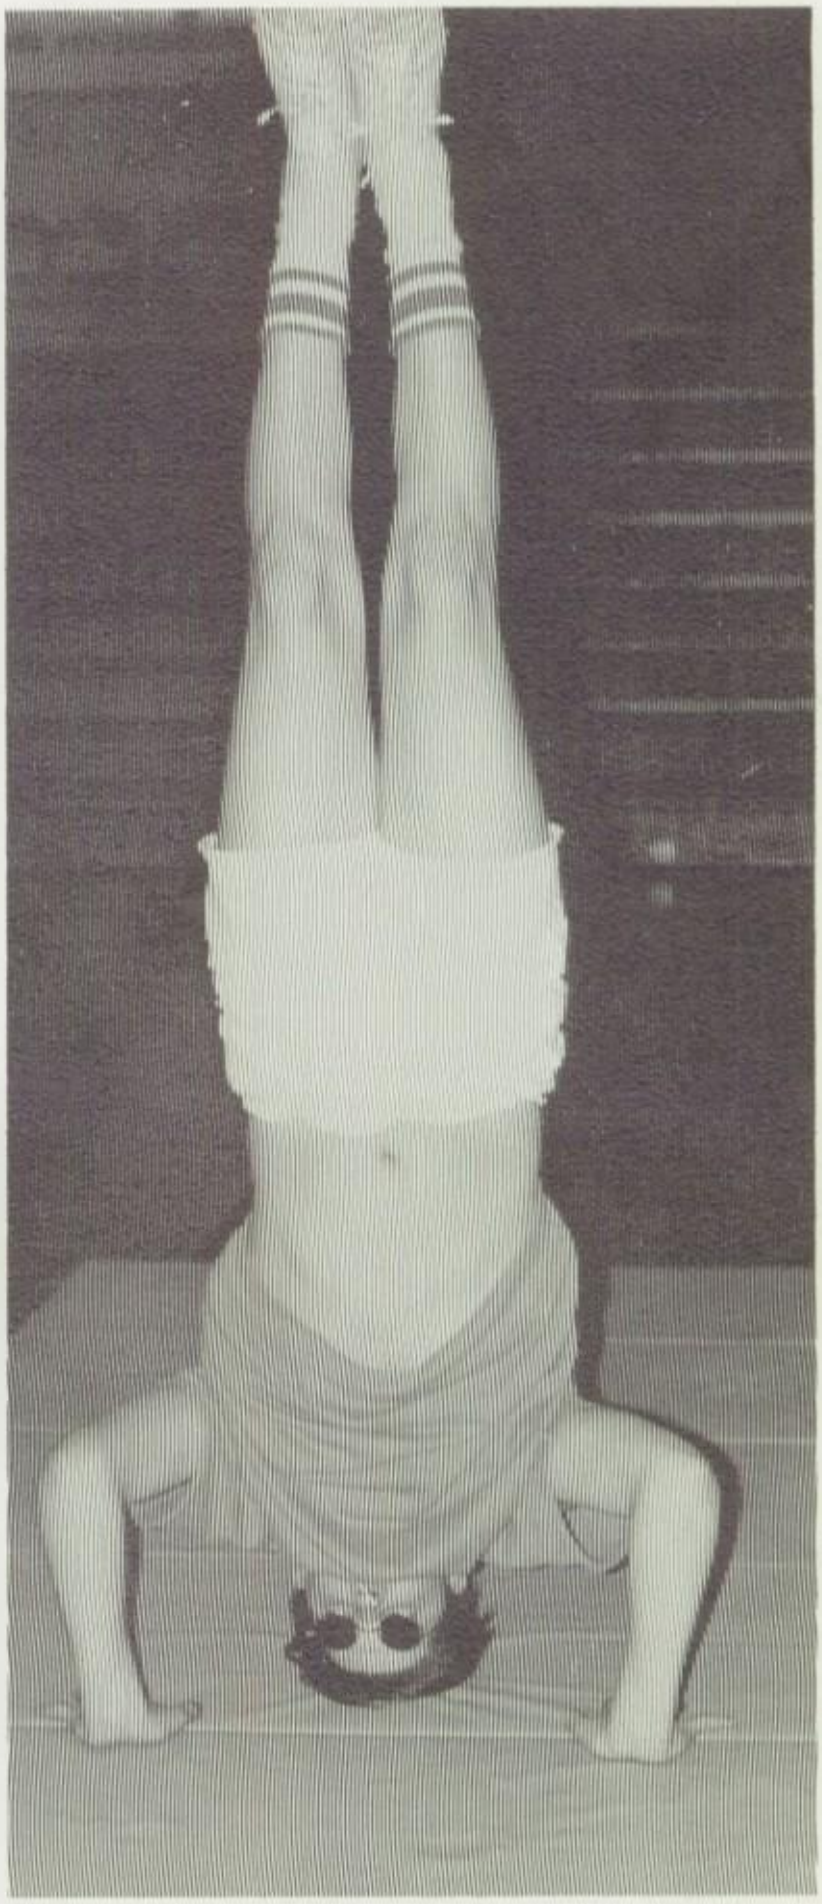
Classes





First leaders of the Class of '74, President Bruce Litchfield, Secretary-Treasurer Beth Lacy, and Vice President Tom Fleisher, seem to be asking, "Will we get mono like everyone else?"

As the Class of '74 reluctantly entered the halls of KHS, they were greeted by many new and unexpected obstacles. Unusual experiences were the order of the day in the meeting of new students and teachers. Although classes and other activities were not always gentle on the minds of the new students, these small events helped to build their characters. A work day in October and a bake sale in November were very helpful to the financial situation of the class. The harmony with which the newcomers worked raised the hope that the Class of '74 would always be as successful as they were in 1969.

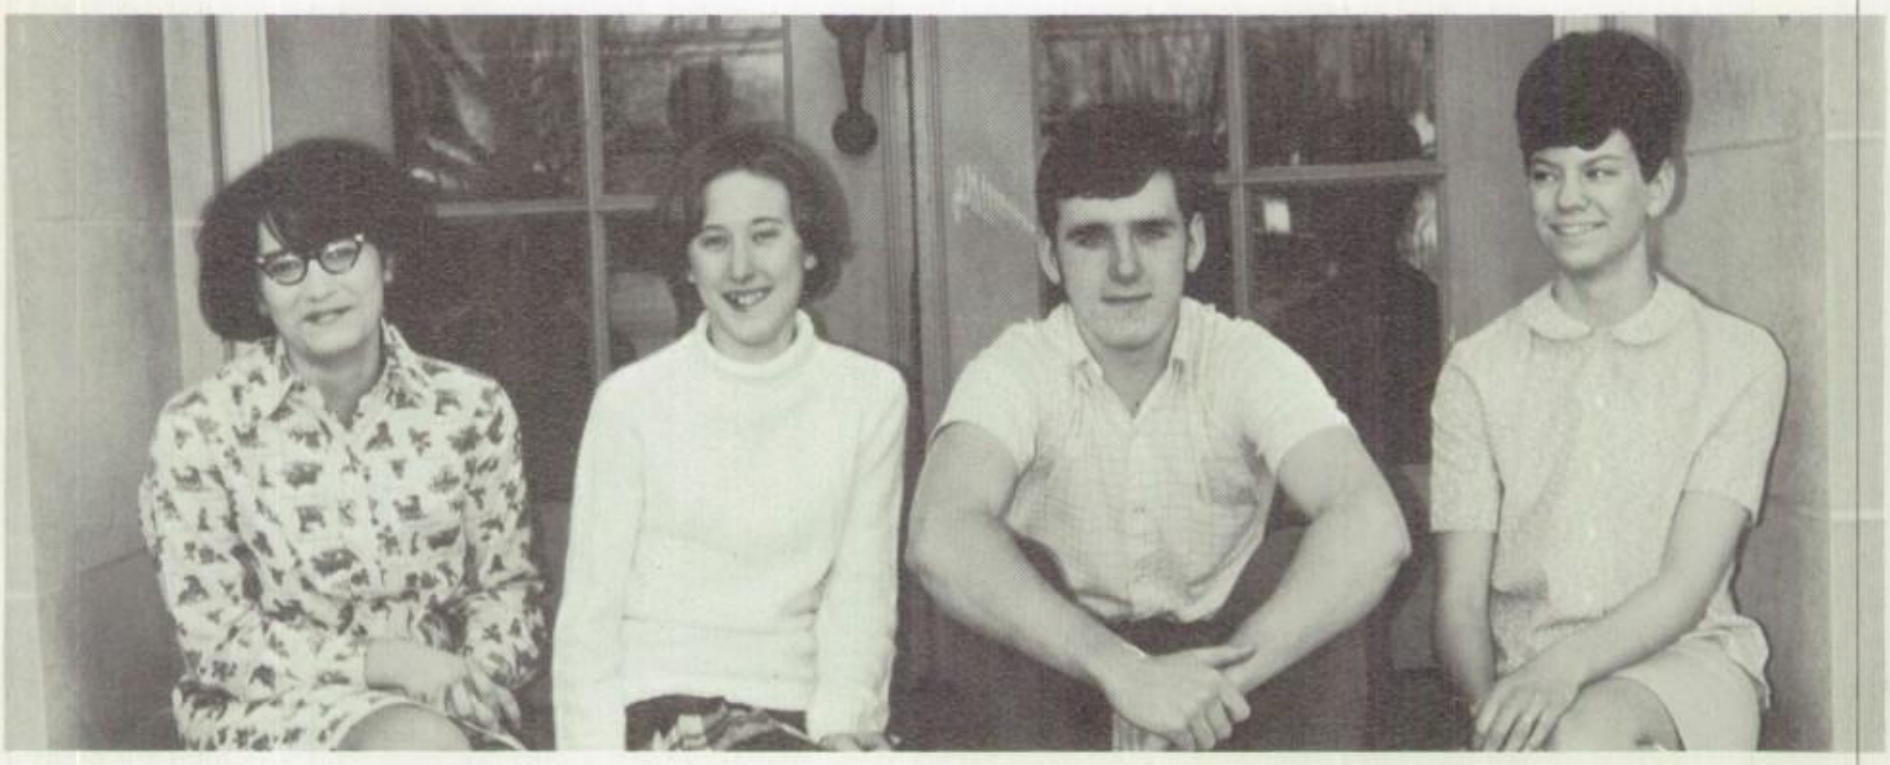
Class of '73 gains much experience

While trying to foresee what their future in high school would bring, the Class of '73 was fairly active throughout their final junior high year. Working together, the Eighth Graders were able to have a successful chili supper. Also, the class sponsored a party which was shaped into a combination fun night and dance.

The class was well represented by the energetic efforts of Greg Ford as the recipient of the DAR Good Citizenship Award and faithful sponsors who guided the class in gaining needed experience. The Class of '73 seemed definitely ready and willing to plunge into the new speeding whirl of Ninth Grade.



The officers of the Class of '73, Melanie Boyer, Treasurer; Vicki Hulick, Secretary; Mark White, Vice President; and Shawna Hotchkiss, President, appear to be enjoying an un-expected break of spring weather in mid-March.

Even though the Class of '72 was, so to speak, "in the basement" again after being the oldest in the Junior High, they nevertheless made their presence at KHS known. The times of cooperation they experienced through working on concessions, the coat check with Latin Club, dances, and regular class work undoubtedly will aid them in the years to come at KHS. What they as a class have found as freshmen will determine whether or not their future years will be some of the best years of their lives.

President Jeff Putnam has a great philosophy for getting along with Treasurer Barb Saline, Vice President Linda Knox, and Secretary Judy King.

The Class of '71 played an important part in strengthening the major successes of the '68-'69 school year not only in extracurricular but also in academic activities. What the sophomores might have called their second annual smorgasbord topped the list of many financial projects which included regular dances and concessions and the selling of Zip Code directories, "Hard Guys" sweatshirts and T-shirts. Though still underclassmen, the sophomores achieved financial stability and experience athletically, musically, socially, and academically which can be utilized in their future as upperclassmen at KHS.

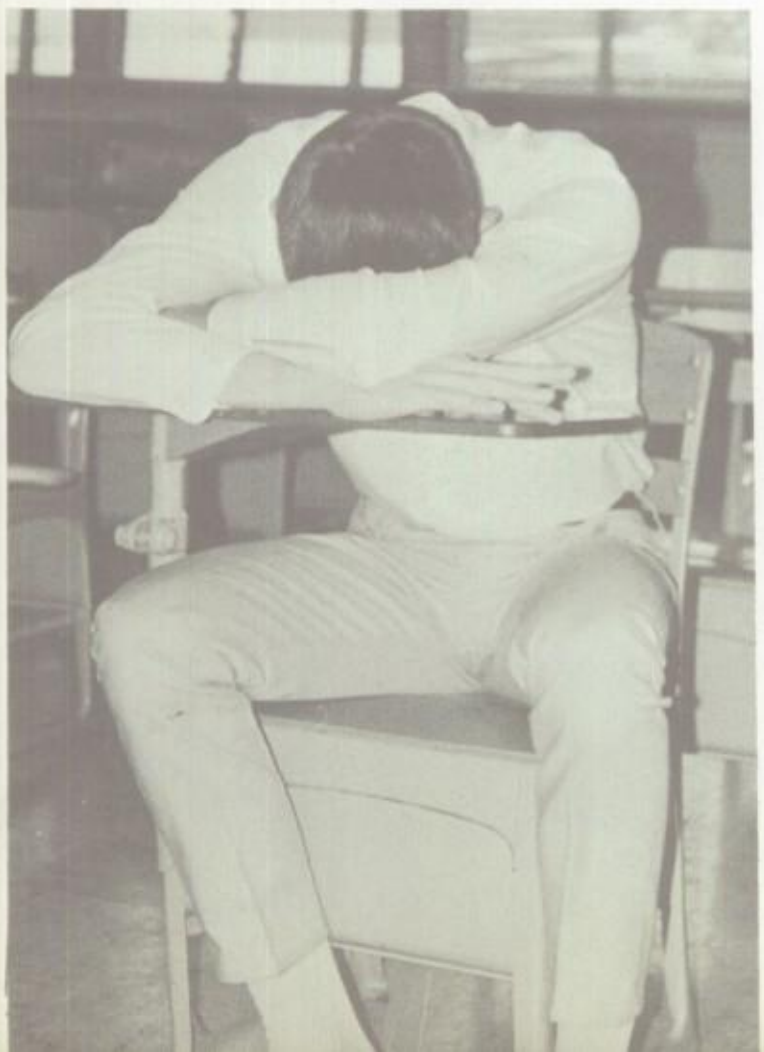
Hard work proves beneficial as Juniors present Prom

The Class of '70 is composed of many types of individuals. Forry Davis is a representative of the more energetic and ambitious students.



The climax for each junior in the Class of '70 was the Junior-Senior Prom, "Stairway to the Stars," held early in May at the Custer Hotel in Galesburg. Having the Prom caused financial problems because the class entered the year low on funds. But, by working together, this monetary deficit was soon overcome, as the class sold napkins, candy, KHS pins, and held game concessions and dances. After all the work was done and the Prom presented, the class agreed that what they had accomplished, they had done well, and they anticipated the Homecoming they would present next fall. Receiving class rings was important to the class, but perhaps the greatest joy was in the fact that being juniors, the Class of '70 could say that they were no longer "little people," but official upperclassmen.

Senior year---every student's dream arrives for the Class of 1969

Diana Thompson, Vice President; Dianne Fergusson, Treasurer; and Secretary Linda Marquith listen in as President Gary Clark checks on a recent class project.

Senior Year---the dream of every student---finally came for the Class of '69. Together they tackled the task of making it a memorable one for all. The sounds of hammers, crinkling tissue paper, snapping logs, auctioneering, the band, Cheer Song, and the victory cries of VICIOUS were familiar to the ears of all as the '69ers brought "The Sound of Music" to Homecoming '68. Senior leadership led to athletic and musical successes. The Music Department placed Runner-up Sweepstakes in state competition, and 1969 will long be remembered as "The Year of the Triple Crown." Prom and graduation activities brought the end of a very successful year for the seniors, but their spirit will go on.

"Maybe no one can reach the stars
But maybe someone can Let's try."

CAROL ANELL

"A cheerful friend is like a sunny day."

TIM ASBURY

"A little nonsense, now and then, is relished by the wisest men."

BILL ATWATER

"The principal business of life is to enjoy it."

FRAN BARNHILL

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

MARK BLEICHNER

"He is free who lives as he chooses."

SHEILA CAMPBELL

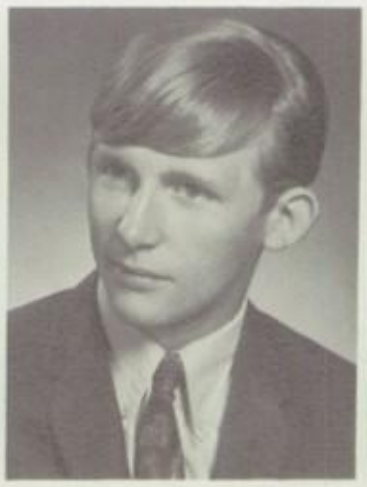
"Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace."

GARY CLARK

"Who reigns himself, and rules passions, desires, and fears, is more than a king."

LINDA CONNOUR

"Good humor is one of the best articles of dress one can wear in society."



DON CONOVER

"A man's being in good or bad humor depends upon his will."

FRANK COOK

"To be happy ourselves is a most effectual contribution to the happiness of others."

SUSAN COTTLE

"The more difficult the obstacle, the stronger one becomes after hurdling it."

YVONNE CRAMER

"Love is the root of all virtues."

BOB CUMMINGS

"Ceremonies differ in every country, but true politeness is everywhere the same."

ROBERT CURRY

"Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy."

ANITA DAUGHERTY

"So long as enthusiasm lasts, so long is youth still with us."

JENNIFER DENNIS

"Take time to play--it is the secret of perpetual youth."

DEAN DERHAM

"Live and let live."

RHONDA DERHAM

"The soul's greatest perfection is its capacity for pleasure."

CAROLYN DOWELL

"Deeds are better things than words are."

ROGER EACK

"If we ever have a golden age, it will be because golden hearts are beating in it."

Class leadership leads to success

Displaying her ribbon, Laura said, "Ya can't never said I don't try."

BILL ECKMAN

"He is greatest who is most useful to others."

FAYE FARRELL

"What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity."

DIANNE FERGUSSON

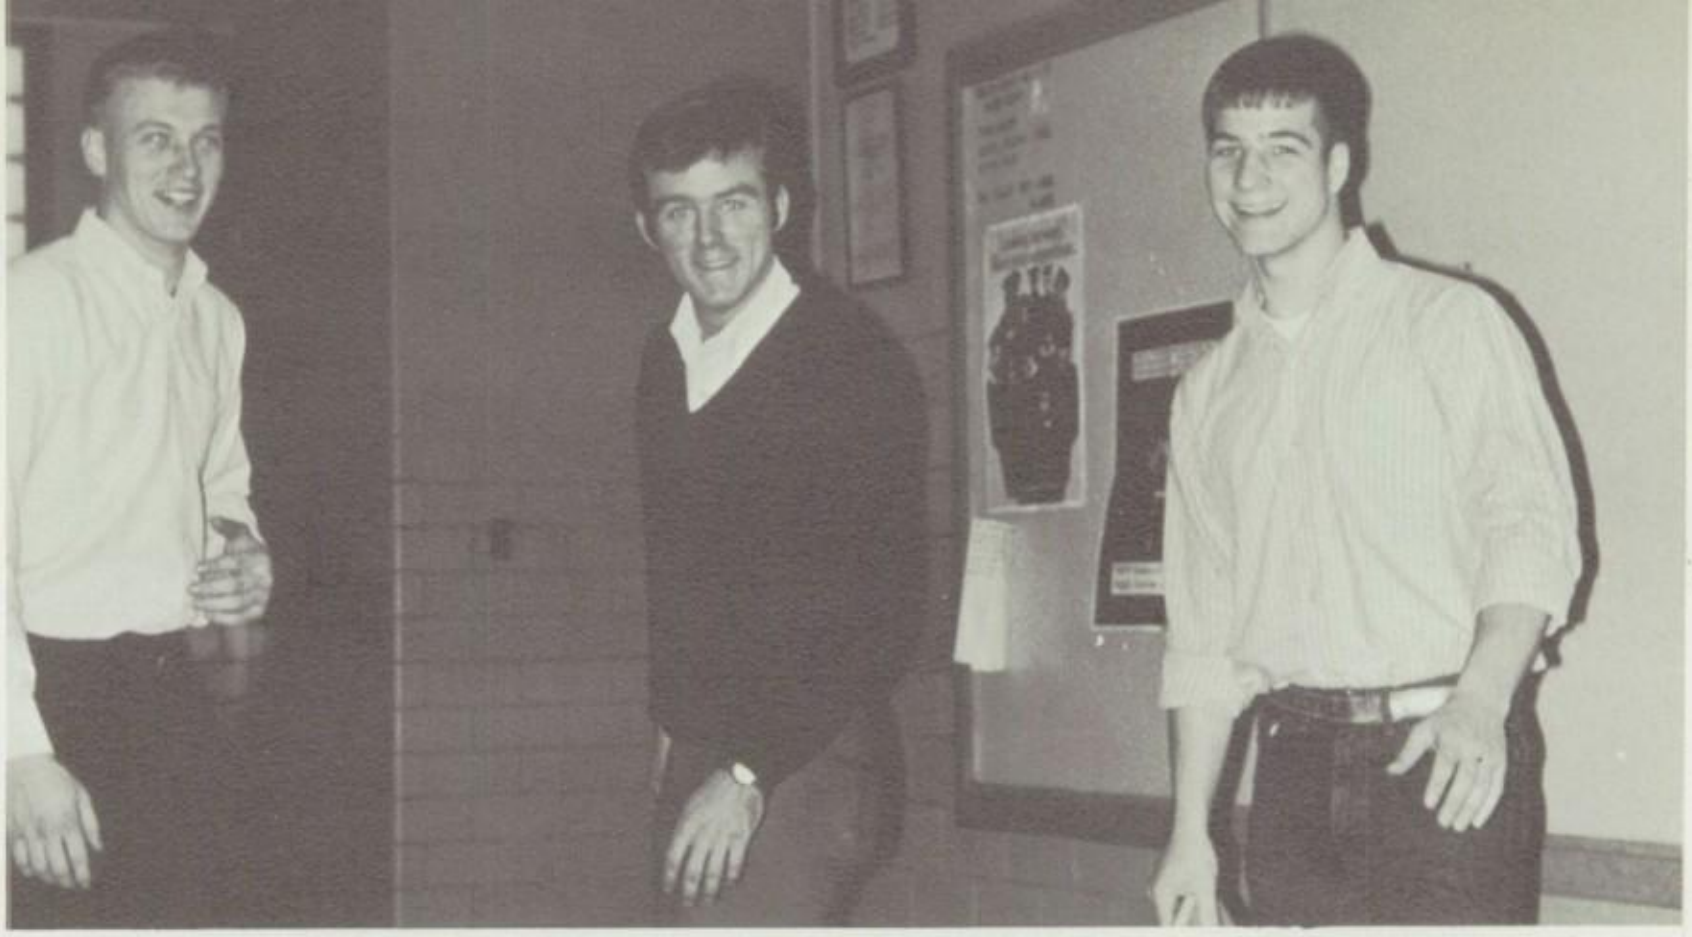
"Smile for the joy of others."

MARSHA FIELDS

"She who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and she who plants kindness gathers love."

BRUCE GHITALLA

"He is not laughed at who laughs at himself first."



Could it be a good old soap opera in the halls of KHS led by Senior Chuck Westbay and including his singing minstrels, Dave White and Dave Jones?

LAURA GOSSICK

"Sing your song and your whole heart will be in the singing."

VERA GRIFFITH

"That day is lost on which one has not laughed."

RICK GROHMANN

"There is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem."

MARGARET GUSTAFSON

"They who do their duties in every-day matters fulfill them on great occasions."

KEN HANSON

"We persuade others by being in earnest ourselves."

BRUCE HEDBLOOM

"The good life is the healthful life, the merry life."

BRYCE HINSCH

"Ambition is often the parent of virtues."

BRAD HOBBS

"Good cheer is no hindrance to a good life."

MIKE HOFFMAN

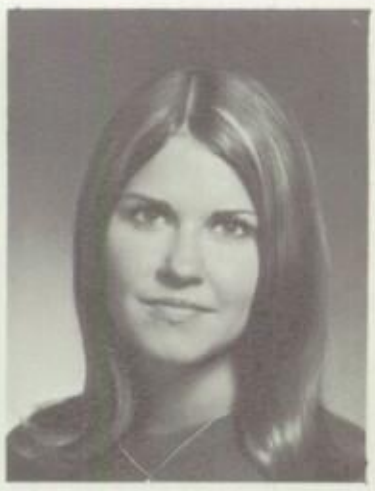
"Make hay while the sun shines."

DON HUGHS

"Sometimes nothing a man can say is nearly so powerful as saying nothing."

JENNIFER JEFFERSON

"Many women are too finely organized for the rocky road they must walk barefooted."



DORRENE JOHNSON

"Happiness consists in activity--it is a running stream."

JACK JOHNSON

"Man should cheer up, the worst is yet to come."

MIKE JOHNSTON

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained."

DAVE JONES

"The world belongs to the enthusiast who keeps cool."

JEFF JONES

"Time and tide wait for no man."

PHYLLIS KASER

"Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together."

MIKE KIESER

"The highest reward for a man's toil is not what he gets, but what he becomes by it."

SUSAN KENNETT

"Kindness is the sunshine in which virtue grows."

Doesn't Crystal Knutson have that peaceful look of quietness, restfulness, tranquility, and calmness? Well, doesn't she?

Spirited seniors display talents in participation

CRYSTAL KNUTSON

"A merry heart does good like a medicine."

FLOYD LAMBERSON

"It is only when the cold season comes that we know the pine to be an evergreen."

PAUL LARSON

"He who has health, has hope; and he who has hope, has everything."

NORMA JEAN LITTLE

"Cheerfulness is health."

KEN LOCKWOOD

"Fortune oft favors the fighter who yields not."

JERRY LUFKIN

"Good temper, like a sunny day, sheds a ray of brightness over everything."

BILL McCLURE

"No man ever injured his eyesight by looking on the bright side of things."

It's a long way down, but innocent John McCormick thinks it to be the only way out of a boring class.

JOHN McCORMICK

"Every noble life leaves the fibre of it interwoven in the woof of the world."

MIKE McNAUGHT

"A merry heart makes a cheerful countenance."

RANDY MACK

"Man is not made for defeat."

SUE ANN MAIN

"Chance favors the prepared mind."

LINDA MARQUITH

"All people smile in the same language."

"Yes, well, sonny, out in Sioux City, Iowa, ..."

Floyd Lamberson seems to be anxiously awaiting the 3:44 bell.

SALLY MARSHALL

"Patience is a virtue, virtue is a grace; both put together make a very pretty face."

SUSAN MAXEY

"In people as in soils, there can be a vein of gold which the owner knows not of."

BILL MEREDITH

"Good manners are the small coin of virtue."

CECILIA MIXER

"Sincerity is all we need to help us do a friendly deed."

CHRIS MONSON

"Only the active have the true relish of life."

TOM MYERS

"The language of friendship is not words but meanings."

STEVE NICHOLS

"Life would be tolerably agreeable if it were not for its amusements."

FRED NOTT

"A happy life consists in tranquility of mind."

TERRY PATRICK

"There is no instinct like that of the heart."

STEVE PERRY

"Nothing is so strong as gentleness, nothing so gentle as real strength."

CHUCK PETERSON

"Burdens become light when cheerfully borne."

JUNE PETERSON

"Charm strikes the sight, but merit wins the soul."

Homecoming 1968 demands class unity

BUTCH PICKREL

"He conquers who endures."

ROGER RYAN

"Politeness is a small price to pay for the good will and affection of others."

BARBARA SANDALL

"The purest pleasures are found in useful work."

VICKIE SHANKS

"While we live, let's live in clover."

"Butch, would you believe one bite and you'll shrivel up and be dead until morning?"

Graduates face new horizons

JERRY SHARP

"Live your own life."

GILES SMITH

"It isn't our position but our disposition that makes us happy."

JIM SMITH

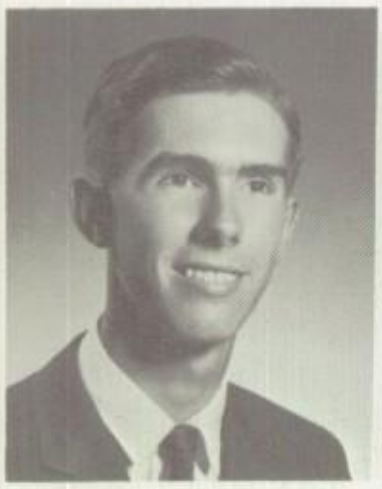
"We cannot always oblige, but we can always speak obligingly."

MARTY SPENCER

"To eat, to drink, and to be merry."

KEN STANTON

"Such is life."



STEVE STICKELL

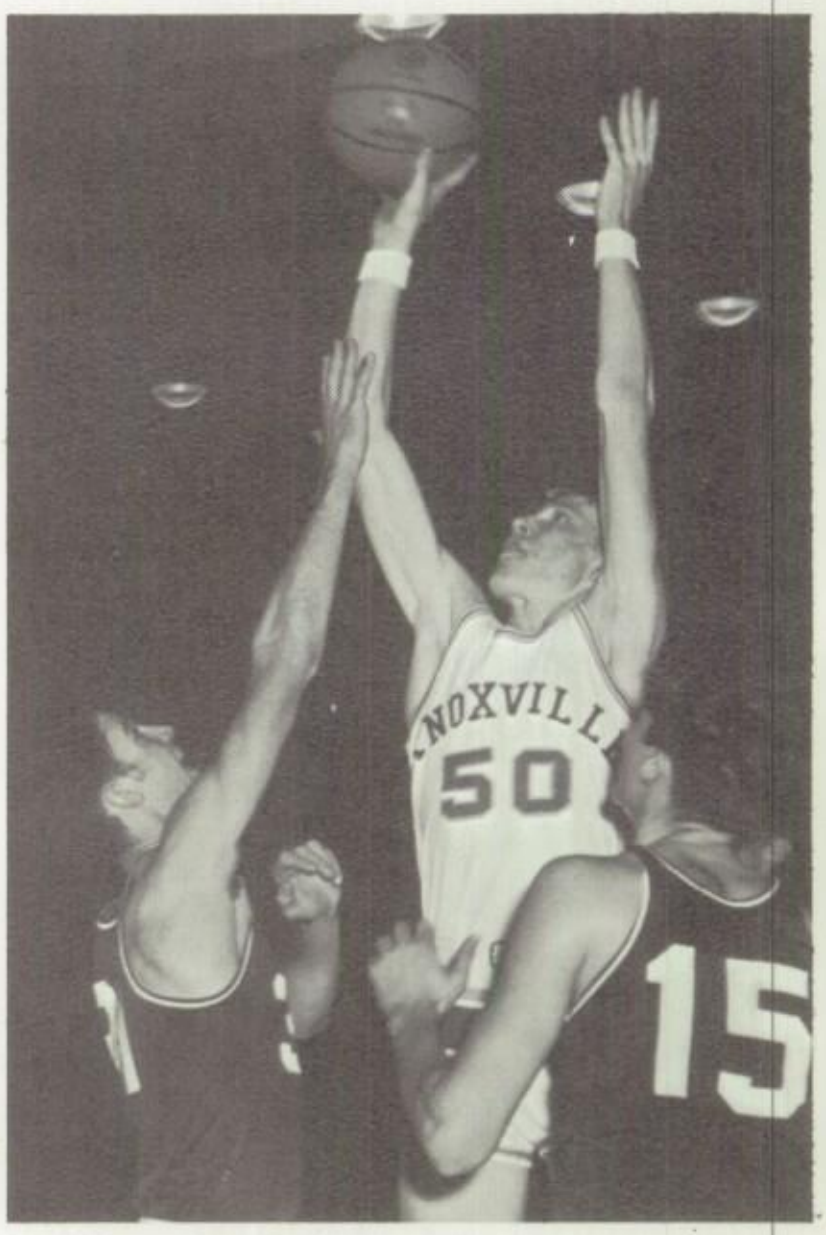
"The secret of contentment is knowing how to enjoy what you have."

LINDA STINSON

"All art is based on non-conformity."

JEFF STUTLER

"Music and rhythm find their way into the secret places of the soul."



It looks like two more points for Knoxville as Bruce Hedbloom goes high over the heads of two defenders.

as their spirit remains forever

BOB TAPPER

"A smile is a curve that can set a lot of things straight."

DIANA THOMPSON

"The virtue lies in the struggle, not in the prize."

DON TROTTER

"Man is an animal not created for defeat."

MARK TURNBULL

"Our restlessness is largely because we are as yet wanderers between two worlds."

GREG WEECH

"Music is the universal language of mankind."

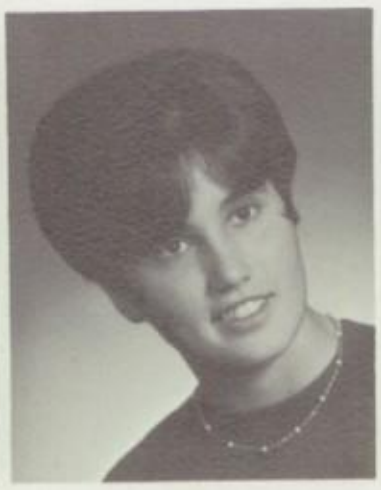
"Who says I can't eat this in one bite?" questions Don Trotter.

CHUCK WESTBAY

"The crown of a good disposition is humility."

DAVE WHITE

"There are no riches above a sound body, and no joy above the joy of the heart."



LINDA WHITESIDE

"An ounce of pluck is worth a ton of luck."

While Mrs. Brown laughs hysterically, Franny looks on in embarrassment, as it seems the joke was on her.

As the Class of 1969 entered high school with anticipation and enthusiasm, so they left it, and so they eyed the future. The last week for the '69ers began with Senior Skip Day at Lake Landuit. Baseball, basketball, and volleyball games, swimming and paddleboats left all with sunburns and happy memories. Class Day brought recognition to the outstanding athletes, citizens, leaders, musicians, and scholars. Then came the cherished moment---Graduation. As each left the Commencement exercises clutching his blue-bound diploma, there was the feeling that all was over. This was the end---but it was also the beginning. It was the end of one stage of learning and the beginning of another. It was the end of one stage of life and the beginning of another.

To dream and not make a dream your master . . . but almost

Being JESTER editor in 1969 was a unique experience. Probably no other student's life was mixed so in one year with feelings of ecstacy and depression. As I recall the scores of times my staff and I journeyed up the stairs to Room 24, I sense a group who decidedly wanted to produce the best book ever at KHS. Every moment we worked together, our ties became stronger. With a common goal uniting us, occasional disagreements and personality clashes have faded from our memories. However, with all new experiences, our group has other memories--those which can never be erased. I wish to take this opportunity to briefly mention those individuals who made the dream of producing our 1969 JESTER come true. Junior Editor "Luigi Harmonica" Jones concentrated diligently on her work while serving her apprenticeship. "Pizza" Ghitalla challenged all of us with his copy and thoughts. I appreciate "Homemaker" Lockwood's pointers on how to iron Tootsie Roll Pop Wrappers for our Bulletin Board. Incidentally, his sports work was terrific. "SAM" Main faithfully performed the tireless task of Senior captions. "Tired" Lamberson, "John-John" McCormick, and "Kenny-Ken" Lockwood never ceased to take unusual pictures...when the camera wasn't broken! "Para-Cookie" England and "Jiff" Algren were very strong helpers at deadline time. "HP" Perry managed to always keep us amused, even when helping to erect the National Christmas Tree. "Mo-fee" Gustafson successfully completed the Index without omitting any names...we hope! "Afraid of the dark" Campbell traveled the immediate area to sell ads for a record number of patrons. "Creep" Clark and "it" Monson kept busy, both writing copy and heckling the editor. Last, but far from least, is our faithful advisor, "Coach" Payne, whose patience never ceased. Her guidance and long hours of devotion are very much a part of this book. Well, we have made it? Actually, at times we believed we wouldn't. Our careers have been highlighted with feather duster fights, aspirin, invisible typewriter ribbons, Tootsie Roll Pops, "strobe-the-charge", throwing "Whoppers" at Room 24 windows, a Dill Tree, typing football and basketball programs, absorbing the Tijuana Brass's "Love Potion #9" at meetings, aspirin, overflowing water fountains, worried parents, police at 2:00 a.m. during a deadline, injuries, submarine sandwiches, window climbing, interrupting SP's third hour English class, entertaining Mr. Mosher, etc., etc., etc. I cherished my position and only hope that you will realize a minimum of everything we put into our dream.

Editor Diana Thompson, alias Fly Girl '68, Weirdo, Frog, Dummy, Pochahontas, Ruthie Lucy, Bright-Eyes, JESTER Janitor, Scavenger.

Pamuras,
Ya better be good 'cause you're a cool eighth grader now!!
I can't think of much to say so I'll sign off. Stay as ?
See ya around!!

Barbaras

Pam,
Ya a real groovy, a gal who is one of my best friends. Good luck this year and all others. Remember: "74" is #1!
Luv ya,
Lyn

To Pam,
A neat, cute girl
that's a lot of fun.
Always stay that way
and good luck with all the boys!

Rosebud

Pam,
To a girl who
has good everything!
And is a groovy, groovy,
person let alone clarinet player. Clara
